VOL. XXI. ATLANTA, GEORGIA, TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 28, 1889. PRICE FIVE CENTS

CLEVELAND SPEAKS.

THE EX-PRESIDENT DINED IN NEW YORK BY

THE YOUNG MEN'S DEMOCRATIC CLUB

Distinguished People Present—Mr. Cleveland Thanks His Fellow Citizens for Their Hospitality—Other Notes.

NEW YORK, May 27.—The large diningroom of the Fifth Avenue hotel presented a scene of rare interest this evening, the occasion being a dinner given in honor of Grover Cleveland by the Young Men's Democratic club of New York city, as a welcome to him as a citizen of the metropolis. The magnificent diningroom was tastefully decorated for the occasion. Shortly after 7 o'clock, President J. H. V. Arnold, of the club, accompanied by other officers, appeared in the large parlor of the hotel, and were soon joined by Mr. Cleveland, Governor Hill, Mayor Grant and other distinguished guests of the evening. An hour was spent by the honored guest in receiving and shaking hands with all comers. Those, of course, included very many lady guests at the hotel, and other ladies who had been brought there for the purpose of meeting him.

Promptly at 8 o'clock, amid the fanfare of trumpets, the procession entered the banquet hall. President Arnold occupied the center of the first table. On his right was Mr. Cleveland.

Among well-known persons present were: Hon. E. J. Phelps, W. L. Scott, Bourke Cockran, A. P. Fitch, C. S. Fairchild, Mayor Grant, Governor Hill, W. C. P. Breckinridge, ex-Governor Hoadly, P. A. Collins, D. S. Lamont, T. M. Waller, J. W. Daniel, ex-Mayor Grace, O. B. Potter, L. Godkin, Elbridge T. Gerry and General Newton.

It was 12:45 when President Arnold arose to propose the health of the guest of the evening. This long expected break in the monotony of mastication was hailed with general satisfaction. He began by saying that on behalf of the Young Men's Democratic club he had been desired to express the deep sense of honor they felt in welcoming those present, not to mourn any defeat, or to commemorate any event, but to pay a simple tribute to one who has rendered service to his party, and to his country, and who now, at the close of an administration alike honorable to himself and advantageous to the people, come among us to resume the practice of his profession, thus taking out of the hands of the people the vexed question, "What shall we do with our ex-presidents?" and has shown us what an ex-president can do for himself.

MR. CLEVELAND'S SPEECH.

Mr. Cleveland stood calmly awaiting his turn. He began his speech in a clear, ringing tone, and kept it up till he finished:

EX-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND'S SPEECH.

Many incidents of my short residence in this good city have served to fill my cup of gratitude and to arouse my appreciation of the kindness and consideration of those with whom I have made my home. The hospitality for which the citizens of New York have long been distinguished has outdone itself in my welcome. Members of my profession have, upon my return to its activities, received me with fraternal greetings and personal friendship. I was not permitted to feel like a stranger in a strange city and yet I can truly say that none of these things will be more vividly or gratefully remembered than the opportunity offered me by this occasion to greet the political friends I see about me. While I believe that no one is more susceptible than I of every personal kindness, and while I am sure that no one values more his personal friendships, it certainly should cause no surprise when I say that these things are not more cherished than my attachment and loyalty to the true democratic faith and my obligations to the cardinal principles of its party organization. I have been honored by my party

FAR BEYOND MY DESERTS.

Indeed, no man can deserve its highest honors. After six years of public service, I return to you, my party friends. Six years have I stood as your representative in the state and nation, and now I take my place again in the ranks, more convinced than ever that the cause of true democracy is the cause of the people—their safeguard and their hope. I come to you with no excuses, no apologies and with no confession of disloyalty. It is not given to man to meet all the various and conflicting views of party duty and policy, which prevail in an organization where individual opinion is so freely tolerated as in the democratic party. Because these views are various and conflicting, some of them must be wrong. And yet when they are honestly held and advocated, they should provoke no bitterness or condemnation, but when they are dishonestly proclaimed as a mere cover and pretext for personal resentment and disappointment, they should be met by the exposure and contempt which they deserve. If with sincere design and intent one charged with party representation has kept party faith, that must answer his party obligation.

NO MAN CAN LAY DOWN A TRUST which he has held in behalf of a generous and confiding people, and feel that at all times he has met in the best possible way the requirements of his trust, but he is not derelict in duty if he has conscientiously devoted his efforts and his judgment to the people's service.

I have deliberately placed in close connection loyalty to democratic principles and devotion to the interests of the people, for in my view they belong together and should mean the same thing. But in this day of partisan feeling and attachment it is well for us to pause and recall the truth, that the only justification for the existence of any party is the claim that in principle and performance its object and purposes are the promotion of the public good, and the advancement of the welfare and prosperity of our entire country. There never was a party platform or declaration of principles which did not profess these things and make them the foundation of party creed, and any body of men who should openly proclaim that they was associated together for the express purpose of gaining supremacy in government with the sole intent of

of victory among associates would be treated with ridicule and scorn. Thus we are brought face to face with the proposition that parties should no more than individuals be untruthful and dishonest. When high party aims and professions are lost sight of or abandoned, and the benefit of office holding and personal pelf are all that remain to inspire party activity, not only is the confidence of those relied on for patriotic support forfeited, but the elements of cohesion, and of effective and lasting political strength gone. Honest differences of opinion that must always exist upon questions of principle and public policy should furnish abundant occasion for the existence of parties and point out their field of usefulness. The study and discussion of these questions cannot fail to result in more valuable citizenship and more intelligent and better equipped partisans. When we seek for the cause of the perpetuity of the democratic party and its survival through every crisis and emergency, and in the face of all opposition, we find it in the fact that its cornerstone is laid in and sympathy, with all things which tend to the advancement of their welfare and happiness. Though heresy may some times have crept into its organization, and though party conduct may at times have been influenced by the shiftiness which is the habitual device of its opponents, there has always remained deeply imbedded in its nature and character, that spirit of true Americanism and that love of popular rights which has made it indestructible in disaster and defeat and has constituted a boon to the country in the time of its triumph. The great founder of our party, as he consecrated himself by solemn oath to a faithful performance of the duties of the presidential office, and pledged himself to the preservation, protection and defense of the constitution. After presenting to his assembled fellow-country men the cause of congratulation found in the condition of our country and character of our people, he impressively added:

"With all these blessing, what more is necessary to make us a happy and prosperous people? Still one thing more, fellow-citizens: A wise and frugal government which shall restrain men from injuring one another, shall leave them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement, and shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned. This is the sum of good government, and this is necessary to close the circle of our felicities."

In the lexicon of true democracy these words arf not obsolete, but they still furnish the inspiration o. our efforts, and anticipation of our political faith Happily the party creed which we profess is not within such narrow lines as that obedience does not permit us to move abreast with the advanced thought of the country, and to meet and test every question and apply the principle to every situation. True democracy, staunch in its adhesion to fundamental doctrine, is at the same time, in a proper sense, progressive. It recognizes our growth and expansion, and the birth of new thought and sentiment. It will judge them all by safe standards, and in all phases of national development it will be prepared to answer as they arise, every need of the people and every popular want. True democracy honestly advocates national brotherhood, to the end that all our fellow countrymen may aid in the achievement of the grand destiny which awaits us as a nation, and it condemns the pretext of liberality and harmony which, when partisan advantage is to be gained, gives way for inflammatory appeals to hate and passion. It insists upon that equality before the law which conceded the care and protection of the government to simple manhood and citizenship. It does not favor the multiplication of offices and salaries merely to make partisans, nor use the promise and bestowal for place for the purpose of stifling the press and bribing the people. It seeks to lighten the burden of life in every home, and to take from the citizen for the cost of the government, the lowest possible tribute.

We know that we have espoused the cause of right and justice. We know that we have not permitted duty to the country to wait upon expediency. We know that we have not trafficked our principles for success. We know that we have not deceived the people with false promises and pretentions, and we know that we have not corrupted nor betrayed the poor with the money of the rich. Who may say that these things promise no reward, and that triumph shall not follow the enlightened judgment and sober second thought of our countrymen? There are today no weak nor weary and despondent members of true democracy, and there should be none. Thoughtful attention to political topics is thoroughly aroused. Events are day by day leading men to review the reasons for their party affiliations, and the supporters of the principles we profess are constantly recruited by intelligent, young and sturdy adherents. Let us deserve their confidence: and in shunning all ignoble practices, let us remain steadfast to the democratic faith, and to the cause of our country. If we are true and loyal to these, the day of our triumph will surely and quickly come, and our victory shall be fairly and nobly won, through the invincible spirit of true democracy.

When quiet was again restored the master of ceremonies proposed second toast of "the administration of Cleveland," which was replied to by Hon. W. C. P. Breckinridge, of Kentucky. Governor Hill also replied to a toast.

AN EXTRA SESSION.

Politicians Believe Congress Will Be Called in Extra Session.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—[Special.]—The belief that congress will be called together before December is expressed by almost every prominent politician of either party who is, or has been, in Washington within the last six weeks, and democratic senators and representatives as well as republicans have based their plans for the autumn upon the expectation that a special session will be called to begin the first Monday in October, which will fall on the 7th of the month. It is the general belief also that the special session which is to follow will be marked by some of the fiercest political struggles which have taken place in congress in a dozen years or more.

In the house the republican majority, according to the certificates on file in the office of the clerk, is only three, and indications are not wanting that the democrats will begin the fight on the question of the organization of that body.

WHAT MR. RANDALL SAYS.

In a conversation several days ago, Mr. Randal remarked that the republicans will have all they can do to organize the house. Another democrat, a southern man, lately intimated in a private conversation that a plan was under consideration which offered a "hopeful prospect of a democratic organization of the house."

There is no danger that a such plan will succeed, but the fact that it has been entertained shows that the democrats are preparing for a long and unusually stubborn contest. They always fight best when in a minority.

THE FIRST GREAT STRUGGLE, and it may be a decisive one, between the parties, will be over the adoption of rules of procedure. The democrats will demand the reenactment of the rules of the last house. The republicans will insist upon the adoption of new rules. This struggle is likely to be a memorable one, and it may last for months. In the conversation before mentioned, Mr. Randall also said:

"If these republicans think they will be allowed to change the rules of the house so that they can stifle the minority they will find themselves mistaken. We will deadlock the house for a year before we will allow it. The democrats are solid against any change of the rules that will infringe upon the rights of the minority, and, with a solid, strong minority, nearly equal to the majority, it will be impossible to change the rules."

COMPLETING THE "PURITAN."

The Monitor to be Changed Into an Armored Vessel.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—It is probable tha the monitor Puritan, which for years has been a monitor only in name—never having been supplied with turrets or guns—will soon be transformed into an armored vessel of modern type of great power, and that her recent trip from Norfolk to New York was ordered by Secretary Tracy with the view to placing the vessel in the yard where important work yet to be done can be most speedily executed and to the best advantage.

A board composed of Commodore Walker, chief of the bureau of navigation; Commodore Schley, of the bureau of equipment; Commodore Sicard, of the ordnance bureau; Commodore Wilson, of the construction bureau, and Chief Engineer Melville, met at the navy department this afternoon, in accordance with instructions from Secretary Tracy, to consider plans for the completion of the Puritan.

THE PROPOSITION FORMALLY SUBMITTED, and which will probably be accepted, without extensive amendments, departs considerably from the original plans, which contemplated the construction of an ordinary double-turreted monitor. According to the pending plan the turrets will be replaced with covered barbettes. These will, it is expected, increase the fighting power of guns by giving them a more elevated position, while the permanent wall of the steel above which the guns revolve, will not be subject to an influx of water as would the turret. Then the guns are to be increased in size from ten to twelve inch calibre; a superstructure is to be erected amidship, which will make the vessel more comfortable and which will also serve as a basis for a secondary battery of powerful rapid fire machine guns. To allow for this increase in weight of ordnance, it is proposed to reduce the thickness of the armor belt considerably below the water line, while slightly increasing its thickness above and to dispense with two boilers. This last change would not affect the steaming ability of the vessel, as it contemplates the equipment of the remaining boilers with apparatus for supplying the forced draft, thus more than making good the deficiency caused by the reduction in the number of boilers.

THE FUNNEL-SHAPED TERROR.

A Cyclone Does a Great Amount of Damage in Illinois.

QUINCY, Ill., May 27.—A terrific windstorm passed over this vicinity yesterday afternoon. The storm was cyclonic in its nature and considerable damage was done. A black, funnel-shaped cloud swept at a furious rate from northwest to southwest, descending to the earth at irregular intervals. Several houses and barns were unroofed and trees were pulled up by the roots. The full force of the storm struck the cemetery in the southern part of the city, and nearly every monument in the grounds was demolished. So far no loss of life or serious injury has been reported.

DRAGGED TO DEATH.

LYNCHING OF A FIEND AT PORT HURON, MICH.

THE MOB AS BRUTAL AS THE PRISONER

A Rope Placed Around the Wretch's Head—He is Pulled From His Bed Into the Streets—Swung From a Bridge.

DETROIT, May 27.—The Journal's special from Port Huron says: Albert Martin, the mulatto who so brutally outraged Mrs. John Gillis, wife of a farmer living near this city, about two weeks ago, was taken from the county jail about 2 o'clock this morning and lynched.

Ever since the outrage occurred there has been considerable talk of lynching, but the fact of its being talked so openly, led the sheriff and police to pay no attention About 2 o'clock Turnkey Laroche opened the door, when he was confronted by three strangers wearing masks. They seized Laroche and demanded the keys. He said he did not have them. They then choked, beat and dragged him into the street, when about fifty masked men rushed him around the corner. The mob were armed with revolvers, and a few had sledge hammers, with which they soon

BATTERED DOWN THE IRON DOORS.

The door of Martin's cell was not locked, and as the mob entered he said:

"What in the hell do you want?"

These were his last words. A noose was quickly made in a long rope which the lynchers carried, and it was slipped over his neck while he was yet in bed. The other end of the rope reached out to the street, where it was held by not less than fifty willing hands. With a blood curdling yell the mob started on the run. Martin was unable to regain his feet, and was dragged through the sheriff's office out to the street, his head striking the coal stove with such force as to turn it half way round. Amid shouts and the firing of revolvers the infuriated mob headed for the Seventh street bridge, three blocks away. They had to turn two street corners on their way, and as they made the turn by the Baptist church, the poor wretch's head caught in the stone covering to the gutter. No effort was made to extricate him, and a halt was made only long enough to give by which the body was released. The noose on the rope had loosened, and the knot being in front, slipped over the wretch's chin and into his mouth. It was then tightened until his jaw was pulled down upon his neck in a manner which must have caused the victim terrible suffering. Arriving at the bridge one end of the rope was run over an iron stringer, and Martin was swung off. His body, which by this time must have been lifeless, was left hanging, and with a few parting shots the mob quitted the scene. No attempt was made to arrest any member of the mob. It is thought it was composed of Mr. Gillis's neighbors.

A TERRIBLE TUG ON THE ROPE,

SUICIDE OF A WOMAN.

Ethel Harris, of Cincinnati, Takes Her Life in Birmingham.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 27.—[Special.]—Ethel Harris, a handsome woman of about twenty-two years, was found dead in her room at the Pearson house, in this city, today, with a silver-mounted pistol, ladies' size, beside her. Her body was stretched at length on the floor. Only one of the chambers of the weapon was empty. She had suicided.

Last Wednesday a well-dressed young man came to the hotel with her and registered "A. Wilson and wife, Washington Territory." He represented himself as being a United States detective. He left here on the following night and has not been heard of since. It has been learned, however, that he is Abner Alexander, of Oxford, Ala., and that he became infatuated with the woman in question, who is proved by letters found in her trunk to be Ethel Harris, of Cincinnati, O. She was not his wife. The coroner's jury has been setting on the case all day, and the matter will be further investigated tomorrow. Alexander cannot be heard from.

An Old Man Murdered.

RALEIGH, N. C., May 27.—[Special.]—Official information was received here today of a brutal murder in Alleghany county, which has greatly stirred up the people. On Sunday, the 19th inst., a mulatto named Joe Russell, alias Rowland, shot down and instantly killed a venerable white man named David Tompkins, near Sparta. There was no provocation whatever for the crime. Governor Fowle today offered a reward of two hundred dollars for the arrest of Russell.

Found in a Ditch.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 27.—[Special.]—The dead body of John Johnson, a negro, was found in a ditch in the woods near Oxmoor in a fearful mutilated condition, last night, by a party of young fellows who were taking a stroll. The body was found in a sink. The throat was cut and a dozen stabs had been inflicted in the sides. The authorities have a clew to the murderer, which they refuse to divulge.

The Woman is Divorced.

ST. LOUIS, May 27.—J. W. Norton, the theatrical manager, was today granted a divorce from Emma S. Norton, his wife, who eloped from St. Louis with Henry W. Moore, managing editor of the Dispatch, about a year ago.

WHY THE KING DECLINED

To Accompany the Emperor to Strasburg—French Comment.

PARIS, May 27.—Notwithstanding the denial of Count Menabera that King Humbert had intended to go to Strasburg, it is rumored here that he had prepared to accompany Emperor William and renounced his purpose only in deference to an appealing telegram from his wife, Queen Marguerite.

All the morning papers believe that King Humbert had really determined to visit Strasburg, and express the opinion that he abandoned his intention out of respect for the justifiably strong feeling throughout Europe, and especially among Italian patriots, against such a visit. The papers do not hold the Italian people responsible for Italy's ingratitude, but they urge the government to avoid strengthen ing the hands of the Italian cabinet by renewing commercial relations between France and Italy.

Still Discharging Conductors.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 27.—[Special.]—The Louisville and Nashville company has begun the work of discharging conductors on the South and North division. Yesterday Captain J. S. Callahan was relieved in Montgomery and J. C. Rittenberg appointed in his place. No cause was given for the discharge. Last night William R. Vaughan was relieved by Henry L. Jordan, who has been running the Montgomery accommodation train. Conductors William Brewster and Dick Branden, two through passenger men, have been discharged and their places filled by Oscar Sewell and Jessse Wadsworth, freight conductors. The officials will give no reason for the discharge. There is strong talk of a strike, and the conductors, it is said, will complain to the Order Railway Conductors.

The Lady Was Silent.

LIVERPOOL, May 27.—Mrs. Maybeck, who is accused of poisoning her husband, was too ill to appear in court today. The chief of police, therefore, visited her in jail and formally accused her of the murder of her husband. Under the advice of her solicitor, the prisoner made no reply. She was remanded.

ANOTHER ELOPEMENT.

A Young Lady Waltzes Off With Her Old Lover.

CHATTANOOGA, May 27.—[Special.]—There was a genuine local sensation in this city today, the cause being the elopement of two well known and popular young people of this city, the lady leaving another betrothed to mourn her taking off. Miss Jessie Morse, known to her many friends as "Miss Topsy," is a beautiful specimen of womanhood, and as bright as she is beautiful. She lives in Cincinnati, but she has been a frequent visitor to Chattanooga, the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. T. Carley, who resided here for the past two or three years until a short time ago. Miss Morse has been engaged to Mr. Clarence Shipp, son of Captain James F. Shipp, a leading manufacturer, and one of the most popular men in the city. For some trifling matter, the engagement was broken off, Mr. Shipp going to a neighboring state for temporary residence.

In the meantime Miss Morse received the attentions of Dr. W. L. Gahagan, a young physician who, during the yellow fever scare last year, was state inspector in this city, and the two were to have been married today. On Saturday, however, Mr. Shipp returned to the city and met Miss Morse. The misunderstanding was explained, and the two young hearts again longed for each other and wanted to beat as one. Accordingly, last night they boarded a Nashville and Chattanooga train, none of their friends knowing their intention, and were married at Suwanee. In the meantime Miss Morse had notified Dr. Gahagan that she could not fulfill her promise today. But for this friendly notification the doctor would have been on hand at the church according to promise, all unmindful of the sad awaking that awaited him. The young runaway couple are both popular, and will shortly return to receive the congratulations of their friends.

FIVE HOTELS BURNED.

A Destructive Conflagration in Reno, Nevado—The Flames Elsewhere.

RENO, Nev., May 27.—Fire started yesterday afternoon, in an old theater building, just oppossite the Depot hotel, destroying the hotel, six other houses and offices near, the Pioneer hotel, Lafayette house, Pollard house, and Pyramid hotel. The N. and C. depot was also partially consumed. On Center street fire broke out again and destroyed five business houses and ten residences. In one block every building except one, was in ashes. Fire in another direction burned the roundhouse and turntable of the Central Pacific road and two houses and one cement house. The Silver State Flouring mills were the next consumed, and after that the Fogus Flouring mills. It is impossible to secure correct losses, but will probably be between $250,000 and $300,000. Insurance amounts to about $125,000, being quite evenly distributed among twenty or twenty-five companies.

HIS HORSE FELL ON HIM.

A Baptist Minister Meets Death in a Peculiar Manner.

HAWKINSVILLE, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—Rev. George W. Murray was found last Friday at the gate of Bennett Holt, in Wilcox county, where he was on a visit, lying under his horse crushed to death. His horse was lame in the left fore leg, and it is supposed that the horse fell on him as he tried to mount to go to his home. He was buried Saturday. He was a Baptist minister, seventy-five years old.

About twelve miles below here, a horse hitched to a buggy was found dead. A valise and sample case were in the buggy. It is not known what became of the driver. The horse belonged to a livery stable in Cochran, it is thought.

THEY ARE FRIENDS NOW.

Survivors of the Philadelphia Brigade Present a Flag to Pickett's Men.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—A committee representing the surviving members of the Philadelphia brigade this afternoon presented a handsome new silk flag of the regulation size, and containing forty-two stars, to General Pickett's division, of Virginia. The two commands frequently faced each other in battle during the late war, and fought bravely against each other at Gettysburg. Two years ago they again met on the field of Gettysburg, at the gathering of the surviving members of the two organizations, but in a spirit of friendship instead of hostility. The purpose of the presentation today was to cement the cordial relations begun two years ago.

After a brief speech by John W. Frazier, chairman of the Philadelphia brigades' committee, narrating the purposes of their meeting, Colonel Reilly made a formal address, presenting the flag to his former foemen. He referred to their meeting each other in battle and their subsequent friendly gathering at Gettysburg, and concluded by saying:

"Let us pledge together our fidelity to that flag which shall protect us all alike, as but one people, having but one destiny."

Colonel B. B. Berkeley received the flag on behalf of the Pickett camp. He interpreted the presentation as being in sympathy with the great centennial procession in New York, where officers who wore blue and gray in the great struggle, rode proudly, peacefully, side by side.

Postmaster General Wanamaker and Corporal Tanner were present, and made short speeches. The veterans then sat down to a fine collation.

RESISTING THE EVICTORS.

Houses Barricaded—Officers Scale Ladders and are Pelted.

DUBLIN, May 27.—There was another conflict at Falcarragh today between evictors and tenants, during which twenty-five patrolmen were injured. Houses were barricaded in the usual way, and the police were totally unable to effect an entrance through the doors. Finally scaling ladders were procured, and with these the attacking party endeavored to enter by the way of windows and roofs. As the police swarmed up the ladders the inmates of the houses rained every manner of missiles upon them, and in some cases ladders crowded with officers were thrown violently to the ground. In this way a number of officers received serious injuries. As usual, the superior forces of the besiegers at last prevailed, and the evictions were finally accomplished.

The Valkyrie Wins Again.

LONDON, May 27.—The yachts Valkyrie, Trex and Yarana, raced again today and the Valkyrie was again victorious. The official time is as follows: Valkyrie, 4:10:3; Trex, 4:22:55; Yarana, 4:29:29. At the start the Trex took the lead, the Valkyrie coming next, with the Yarana last. Rounding the bell buoy on leaving Harwich harbor, the Valkyrie was two lenghts ahead, Trex second. The Valkyrie then rapidly increased her lead and on returning passed the bell buoy ten minutes ahead.

The Latest From Hayti.

NEW YORK, May 27.—The steamer Orange arrived from the West Indies today and brought news contradictory of the former stories regarding the victories supposed to have been gained by Hippolyte's army. It is stated that the steamer Carondelet is at Hayti and is unable to leave there for the reason that there are 9 feet of water in her hold and it is impossible to light the fires to get up steam. The Dominican government commissioner is at present at Hayti, looking into the affairs of the country.

HON. AMOS J. CUMMINGS

A FAMOUS JOURNALIST AND CONGRESSMAN,

TALKS UPON INTERESTING MATTERS.

The Georgia Delegation in Congress—The Traits of the Different Members as Viewed by Him.

Amos Cummings, of the New York Sun and ex-congressman from New York, has been in Atlanta for the past two days.

Mr. Cummings, who is recognized as perhaps the ablest descriptive writer on the American press, is traveling through the south getting data for a series of articles to be printed in the Sun on "Fortunes in the South."

This is his first visit to Georgia since 1857, at which time he traveled through the entire state as a tramp printer. Mr. Cummings was promoted from the case on the New York Tribune, some years after his visit to Georgia, and since that time has risen in the profession until he is now the highest salaried newspaper man in this country.

He was managing editor of the Sun, and from that position was sent to the fiftieth congress. There he made a national reputation by his vigorous opposition to the passage of the river and harbor bill, but his greatest reputation was made through his brilliant descriptive letters to the Sun and other papers on the daily proceedings of the house. In fact his news letters were so much sought after that he will continue them with the 51st congress, although he declined re-election to that body.

Mr. Cummings has been through a portion of north Georgia, gleaning data for his letters. In speaking of the state yesterday he said:

"Its development since the war utterly astounds me. It has made greater strides since then than the empire state of the north. In minerals it seems to be richer than Pennsylvania. In business energy, restless activity and in wealth it retains its supremacy. The most extravagant predictions that I have heard concerning the future of the state can hardly equal what will probably be the reality fifty years hence. I know that sinewed with zinc and filled with marble, slate, manganese and gold. It would not surprise me to hear in the future that quicksilver and tin had been discovered. Indeed I saw, not long ago, a man in New York wearing a diamond, and one not off color, that had been found in Georgia. Within thirty years I believe that it will be the greatest state in the union for the production of fruits—not barring California. Its development within twenty-five years has been marvelous. Its timber seems to be as valuable and more inexhaustible than the timber of Michigan and Wisconsin. The state bids fair to be one of the richest jewels adorning the American republic."

"What do you think of Georgia's representatives in congress?"

"I know more about them than I do about the state. I place at the head of the delegation. He is a hard working member, a ready debater and is rarely caught in a tight place. His work in the elections committee at the last session was simply magnificent. He was chosen chairman in a democratic caucus. He hesitated about accepting it, because in the regular course of events he would have been chairman of the committee on Pacific railroads, Throckmorton having gone out. At the earnest solicitation of the sub-caucus, he consented to accept the chairmanship of the committee on elections. His first fight was in the Carlisle contest. He handled himself with dexterity and routed the disgruntled republicans at every point. His arguments were so good that Powell and one other republican agreed with him that there was no doubt of Carlisle's election. His next fight was on the White-Lowry contest, from Indiana. He lost it simply because White had been a gallant union soldier. Bourke Cochran aroused the Grand Army spirit, and White went in by the votes of democrats who did not believe that he had been naturalized before the election. Indeed, Tim Tarsney, of Michigan, went over to him and said:

"There, White, I voted for you, now d—n you go and get naturalized."

His best work, however, was in the Smalls-Elliott case. He came out of this with flying colors, despite the fact that the heaviest republican batteries were trained upon him. Crisp is a bright parliamentarian and has rare tact and judgment. He would make an excellent leader of the democratic forces in the next house if Sam Randall dies.

JAMES H. BLOUNT

has had more experience than the other Georgia congressmen. He won a great victory at the last session by yanking through the classification act which was attached to the post-office appropriation bill. At first Blount was opposed to the classification act, but when convinced that it would improve the service, and that the postal department really wanted it, he espoused it with all his heart. The fight was a tough one. Blount was obstinate, and democratic members were frequently on the point of turning against him, but his arguments were so convincing and his personal influence so great, that he finally won the fight hands down. I don't know how he stands with his constituency, but I am sure that he is as valuable to the country at large as Watch Dog Holman.

The new members at first seemed to dislike him, but their dislike was turned into admiration, and they accepted his statements afterwards without question. He has saved many a dollar for the government. In some cases probably he has chopped too near the line. I believe him to be thoroughly honest, and a man who will stand by his convictions despite the threats of his enemies or the seductions of his friends.

JUDGE TURNER

is a great man. He does credit to the highest legislative body in the world. He rarely speaks, but when he does do so commands the closest attention. His speech on the Mills bill was the most classic of the two hundred delivered in the house. When Kennedy, of Ohio, shot an arrow into him he became thoroughly aroused. He not only skinned Kennedy, but turned around and took off the under cuticle, nor was it done in a rough manner. The greatest surgeon in the world could not have used the scalpel with more exquisite skill. Turner is a statesman who, when a great crisis arises, will arise to the crisis.

"I fancy that

is more of a scholar than a statesman. No more charming or agreeable gentleman had a seat in the fiftieth congress. He was a credit to his associates and to his state.

"One of the most modest of the Georgia congressmen was

MR. CLEMENTS.

He had charge of an appropriation bill that led to considerable discussion.

"At times it was annoying, but Clements held his temper, preserved his equanimity and slid the bill through about as he wanted it. He is a graceful speaker, but not so forcible and so driving as Crisp. He lacks eloquence, but he states his proposition clearly and in the purest Anglo Saxon.

"ALLEN CANDLER

was a quiet but an effective worker. Rarely was he out of his seat. He kept close track of the business before the house and was always alive when the interest of Georgia was at stake. I never heard him make a set speech. I believe that Candler is from the district formerly represented by John A. Wimpy. If so, he owes me a debt of gratitude. Many years ago, while I was managing editor of the Sun, the police captain invited me to accompany him on a raid upon sawdust swindlers. We captured their headquarters without difficulty. The room was littered with letters from men who had been trying to dicker in counterfeit money. I found an old carpet bag, scooped into it a pile of the letters and returned to the Sun office. At odd intervals I examined them and printed a great number. Among them were two letters from Mr. Wimpy. If my memory serves me he had written one letter inclosing the necessary requirement for a batch of the counterfeits. As usual he received a bundle of blank paper, cut to the size of treasury notes. Fancying that the package had been changed while on its way to his home, he wrote a second letter seeking a second supply of the notes. Whether he got them or not I can't say, but certain it is that he hadn't wit enough to drop upon the game that had been played upon him. I presume that the publication of the letters ended his career in congress. At any rate I have never heard of him since. He was a good republican, however, and possibly would be serviceable in the next house.

"JUDGE STEWART

reminded me of an old cannon, brass mounted. He had a smooth bore, and at times made a great noise. He had a rough and tumble intellectual fight with General Grosvenor, of Ohio. It was hard to say which had the best of it; Stewart went over in the republican side and there was shatp cross-firing. There were clamors in the air, and the judge showed conclusively that the 'southern people were not serpents crawling on their knees at the foot of the republican party.' Beetles of eloquence hustled above the heads of the combatants and sectional tarantaulas were exorcised. The fight, however, ended as it had began. The republicans were satisfied that Grosvenor had far the best of it, and a few of the democrats congratulated Stewart. It was an interesting fight, but not nearly as interesting as some of the fights in which some of the Georgia congressmen were engaged in the war. If Stewart fought the devil half as well when he was in the Salvation Army the devil must have had a lively time of it.

"I had almost forgotten

JUDGE BARNES, OF AUGUSTA.

He made the most memorable fight in the fiftieth congress. It was in behalf of the Cherokee Injuns, whose interests were threatened by the Oklahoma bill. When Barnes began the fight I don't believe that he had fifty members with him. He did so well, however, that at one time he fairly defeated the bill by three majority.

"Its friends became alarmed. They carried an immediate adjournment, leaving the question of reconsideration open. That night Washington was in an uproar. Telegrams flashed from the west and all the Oklahoma boomers bullyragged doubting members. Before morning they had secured enough votes to beat the grand old Georgian. I believe that they would have even failed in this if Barnes had had an opportunity to speak. He was robbed of the time which should have been allotted to him by dilatory motions. That settled the fate of the Cherokees for the moment, but the judge gathered himself and the president's proclamation issued soon afterward showed how well he protected the former wards of his native state. I never heard a more effective speaker nor one who could explain the ramifications of the law so that even a bootblack could understand them. Augusta, Richmond county, the tenth congressional district, Georgia and the whole United States ought to be proud of him.

"GRIMES WAS A SILENT CONGRESSMAN.

I hear that he was a good worker on committees. I saw little of him and heard less, but from personal association I should say that the people of his district might travel far and fare much worse.

"CARLTON

was another clever congressman. I never shall forget the day that he jumped on Blount when the agricultural department bill was under consideration. It was a vicious attack and I fancied that it worried the Macon statesman. It reminded me of one of the piquant scenes described by Milton in "Paradise Lost." I wouldn't undertake to say which was Belial and which was Michael. Carlton, however, was in magnificent condition for a man making his maiden speech, and he did remarkably well. The other Georgia congressmen seemed to enjoy the situation, and Buck Kilgore, of Texas, was evidently in the seventh heaven of delight. He knew how it was himself.

"One thing further about Georgia congressmen. I expected when I first entered the house to find some man imbued with the wit of Judge Longstreet, the brains of McPherson Berrien, and the thundering eloquence of Bob Toombs. In this I was disappointed. Probably the times were out of joint, but they will be in joint at the next session, and no man can then tell what a day will bring forth."

"What do you think of an extra session?"

"It looks as though there would be an extra session in October. The republicans talk that way in New York, and I reckon they know what they are talking about."

"How about the talk of nominating Mr. Cleveland in '92?"

"He can't get a vote in a national convention from New York. We hope the people of the south won't try to shove him on us."

Mr. Cummings left for Birmingham last night.

THE FOURTH DRAW.

A MOOT COURT.

To Be Organized by the King's Daughters Soon—Mrs. Knowles in Charge.

The King's Daughters propose to hold a moot court.

In response to Mrs. King's call a party of ladies met at the King's Daughters' hospital yesterday afternoon and discussed means of raising funds to build a permanent hospital which will be the property of the order.

A moot court was suggested, and Mrs. Clarence Knowles agreed to undertake to get up one when she returns from St. Simons island two or three weeks hence.

The moot court is now taking society by storm. It draws better than anything that has been brought out in a long time. Recently one netted $1,500 for a benevolent institution in a neighboring city.

In Birmingham about a month a go the ladies of the Presbyterian church organized a moot court, which proved an immense success. The cause was breabh of promise suit and the defendant was a popular young man who had been paying attention to a popular young lady. The young lady, who was quite a belle, was brought in as principal witness, and her testimony produced an immense impression on the audience. The hall was packed and the receipts very large.

A moot court for the King's Daughters will be an event long to be remembered.

The costumes for the lawyers will be quaint, like those of the English bar a hundred years ago, and the affair will be very amusing, unique and delightful.

Town Building.

In times past the matter of grading streets, establishing parks, lakes and making other public improvements in towns and cities followed in the course of years after towns were settled up. It is different now. As an illustration of the spirit of the present age, the company owning Peachtree park, with their ample means generously expended under scientific guidance, has a ready built an symmetrical improved town. The purchasers of lots need only to build their houses; all public improvements and conveniences are provided in advance.

MEDICAL.

MANY A LIFE

HAS been saved by the prompt use of Ayer's Pills. Travelers by land or sea are liable to constipation or other derangements of the stomach and bowels which, if neglected, lead to serious and often fatal consequences. The most sure means of correcting these evils is the use of Ayer's Cathartic Pills. The prudent sailing-master would as soon go to sea without his chronometer as without a supply of these Pills. Though prompt and energetic in operation, Ayer's Pills leave no ill effects; they are purely vegetable and sugar-coated; the safest medicine for old and young, at home or abroad.

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take Ayer's Pills, and soon the bowels recovered their natural and regular action, so that now I am in health."—Mrs. C. E. Clark, Tewksbury, Massachusetts.

"I regard Ayer's Pills as one of the most reliable general remedies of our times. They have been in use in my family for affections requiring a purgative, and have given unvarying satisfaction. We have found them an excellent remedy for colds and light fevers."—W. R. Woodson, Fort Worth, Texas.

"For several years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than upon anything else in the medicine chest, to regulate my bowels and those of the ship's crew. These Pills are not severe in their action, but do their work thoroughly. I have used them with good effect for the cure of rheumatism, kidney troubles, and dyspepsia."—Capt. Mueller, Steamship Felicia, New York City.

"I have found Ayer's Cathartic Pills to be a better family medicine for common use than any other pills within my knowledge. They are not only very effective, but safe and pleasant to take—qualities which must make them valued by the public."—Jules Hauel, Perfumer, Philadelphia, Pa.

T A. FRIERSON..................AUCTIONEER

A Very Important Sale of a Very Promising Town.

LYERLY. GEORGIA

400 Splendid Lots for Business, Residence and Manufacturing

AT AUCTION, THURSDAY AND FRIDAY, MAY 30 AND 31, AT 10 A. M. EACH DAY.

Special Trains! Cheap Railroad Fare! Free Barbecue! Fine Music! Come to the Lyerly Sale! It is the place to make money on lots! A Splendid business point! A superior location for iron and wood-working industries. A future important railroad, commercial and manufacturing town.

LYERLY

is a new town on the Chattanooga, Rome and Columbus railroad in Chattooga county, Georgia, fifty-two miles south of Chattanooga, and twenty-five north of Rome.

THE SITUATION

of the new town is very pretty, being high, nearly level, and mostly covered with natural shade trees, making the lots desirable and pleasant for homes. The soil is sandy, has natural drainage and does not get muddy.

A SPLENDID IRON DISTRICT.

Lyerly is in the center of a section rich in fine iron ores, and the mining and manufacture of iron promises to be a large and important business for the town. Mining is now extensively conducted and manufacturing will soon follow.

THE CHATTOOGA MINING AND RAILROAD COMPANY

have bought the famous Dirt Seller Ridge, three miles west of the town, have built a railroad to the base of the ridge and a cable incline to the top, whence they are shipping large quantities of the finest red fossiliferous ore from their inexhaustible mines. The quality of the ore is very fine, analyzing 57 to 60 per cent of metallic iron. This famous iron ridge is thirty to forty miles long, is full of iron and is only three miles west of Lyerly.

TAYLOR'S RIDGE,

three and a half miles east of the town, is full of fine red ore, and a railroad is projected from Lyerly to run along the east side of the ridge to reach the immense beds on that side.

SHINBONE RIDGE,

only five miles northwest and forty miles long, is also full of fine red ore, which is being extensively mined.

BROWN ORE AND MANGANESE

exist in large quantities on a ridge less than one mile north of Lyerly, and can be easily and cheaply handled.

A FUTURE IRON TOWN.

The great quantity and superior quality of iron ores all around, near by and easy of access, make Lyerly a splendid point for furnaces and iron works of all kinds.

IRON FURNACE AND OTHER WORKS.

It is the purpose of the Chattooga Mining and Railroad company to erect a furnace at Lyerly, and the superior quality and great quantity of iron right at and all around the town will attract the attention of iron men and cause iron works of different kinds to be located, and Lyerly will be an important iron manufacturing town. Already, large investments have been made by several strong companies in the fine iron properties near by, and they will all be developed and worked.

FINE HARDWOOD TIMBER,

including nearly all the valuable varieties for all wood-working industries, is abundant all around, near by, easy of access and at lowest cost, making Lyerly a most excellent point for all wood-working factories. Vehicles, implements, tools, furniture, and nearly everything in the wood-working line can be manufactured as cheaply and of as good material at Lyerly as anywhere.

COAL SUPPLY.

The Lookout mountain coal field is only seven miles west and northwest and can be easily and cheaply reached by a railroad which is now being surveyed and will be built. Three other coal fields are connected by rail with Lyerly and a permanent supply of cheap coal is assured.

LIME STONE AND FIRE CLAY.

Limestone is abundant on all sides. A vein of fire clay, said to be 60 feet thick, is in Dirt Seller mountain, six or seven miles southwest of the town, and another large vein has recently been found less than a mile southwest.

MARBLE.

Large beds of variegated marble, apparently immense quantities, are in the foot hills of Dirt Seller mountain, two miles southwest.

SAND STONE

of excellent quality is abundant on the mountains and ridges around the town.

BRICK CLAY

is plentiful and convenient, and brick works will be needed and can be made profitable.

The sale will begin at 10 a. m. each day. Be on time.

THE AGRICULTURAL COUNTRY

around Lyerly is unsurpassed in the state. Four large valleys of very fertile soil and great productive capacity head close up around the town and stretch off in different directions. Chattooga valley, in which the town is situated, is two and a half miles wide by fifty miles long and is one of the finest in the state. On the east, two miles distant, is South Carolina valley, four by five miles in area. On the northwest, three miles distant, is the Dirt Seller valley, three by ten miles in area. Five miles northwest is Broom Town valley, three and a half by fifteen miles in area. All this vast area of fertile country is directly and naturally tributary to Lyerly, and in addition thereto, a vast territory in Cherokee, Alabama, is nearer and more convenient to Lyerly than any other railroad town and will therefore trade there.

FARM PRODUCTS.

All this vast area is fine farming country and finely adapted to clover, grasses, corn, small grain, cotton, live stock, fruits, grapes, vegetables and general truck and dairy farming.

AS A BUSINESS PLACE,

Lyerly is very inviting, and general merchandising will be very profitable. 2,800 bags of cotton have been ginned within five miles, and 8,000 to 10,000 could be handled if proper inducements and facilities were offered, which soon will be. Immense quantities of grain, poultry and produce of all kinds will be brought to Lyerly as soon as some stores are opened to buy or trade for them. Lyerly presents a very fine opening for heavy and profitable merchandising, and should receive immediate attention from all who want first-class business locations.

LARGE PAY ROLLS.

Besides the heavy trade of the country around, the large weekly payments at the mines will greatly benefit the mercantile business of the town and keep it lively and profitable the year round.

COTTON FACTORY AND COTTON SEED OIL MILL.

Lyerly is a splendid location for one or more cotton factories and cotton seed oil mills.

TANNERY AND TANBARK.

The tanning business can be made very profitable, the supply of hides and tanbark being practically unlimited.

The great bend in the railroad at Lyerly makes it the nearest point on a railroad for a large area of country west, south and southwest, which is greatly in favor of the town as a mercantile and shipping point.

RAILROADS EXISTING AND PROJECTED.

As shown by the adjoined map, Lyerly is at the junction of the C., R. & C. R. R. and the mineral road to Dirt Seller Mountain. The map also shows several other projected roads, extensions and connections, which show the very important location of Lyerly and its bright prospects as a coming railroad center, as well as a great mercantile and manufacturing point. The numerous advantages and resources of the town will attract railroads, stores, factories, saw mills, planing mills, iron works, warehouses and industries of various kinds, and the new town will grow up rapidly in population, business, manufacturing and railroad facilities.

WATER SUPPLY

is abundant. The town is right on the banks of the Chattooga river, springs are numerous and good. Well water can be gotten anywhere by sinking wells 20 to 30 feet.

THE CLIMATE

is equable, healthy and pleasant the year round.

Study the map and and you will see that Lyerly occupies a splendid position and commands vast mineral, timber and agricultural resources, and with new railroads projected either to or connecting with the town, the prospects of the new town are very bright and its possibilities great.

STATE OF GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY. TO the Superior Court of said county. The petition of W. A. Hemphill, A. D. Adair, E. M. Blalock, W. R. Hammond, Charles N. Fowler and Charles Benjamin Wilkinson respectfully represents that they and their associates and successors desire to become a body corporate for the space of twenty years, with the privilege of renewal at the expiration of that time, under the name of ATLANTA SECURITY COMPANY, with power to sue and be sued, contract and be contracted with, have and use a common seal, buy, own and sell property, both real and personal, such as may be necessary or proper in the transaction of their business hereinafter mentioned, have and employ such officers or agents for the transaction of their business as they may deem proper, and generally to do and perform all such acts and make such rules, regulations, by-laws and contracts as are usual and as may be necessary or proper for the transaction of their business. The objects of said association are to carry on the business of negotiating loans on real estate, charging a commission therefor, and to make thereby a profit on the capital employed for its stockholders. The particular business they propose to carry on is that of negotiating loans on real or personal property, or other security, for such persons or corporations as wish to borrow money, charging therefor such commission as may be agreed upon between said corporation and its customers. But said corporation will have a capital stock paid in and will also wish to employ the same by making loans and by using it in such way as they may deem proper so as to keep it employed. The capital stock will be fifty thousand dollars, but they desire the privilege of increasing the same to any amount they may deem proper, not to exceed five hundred thousand dollars, and ten per cent will be paid in before commencing business or exercising any rights under this charter. Said corporation will have its principal office for the transaction of its business in Atlanta, Fulton county, Georgia, but desires to transact business by negotiating loans on property located anywhere in this or any other state of the United States for the owner of such property, and for such commission as may be agreed upon. Wherefore your petitioners pray that an order may be granted, giving to them corporate powers and privileges and making them, their associates and successors, a body corporate, as hereinbefore set forth, and your petitioners will ever pray.

HALL & HAMMOND, Petitioners' Attorneys.

CORPUT'S BUGS

ARE DECLARED BY HIM NOT TO BE THE PHYLLOXERA.

They Have Eight Legs, While the Phylloxera is Only Blessed With Six—The Coweta Alliancemen—Gossip of the State.

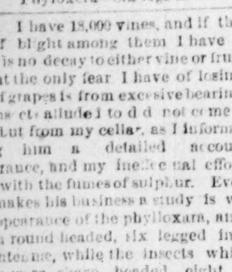

The following letter, addressed to the CONSTITUTION by Hon. Felix Corput, will have special interest for all who are engaged in fruit culture.

I notice in your issue of Saturday, 26th inst., an article headed "Corput's Grapes have Been Attacked by blight or phyloxera." This was news to me. I have 18,000 vines, and if there is the least sign of blight among them I have never seen it. There is no decay to either vine or fruit as stated, and present the only fear I have of losing my very full crop of grapes is from excessive bearing, hail or wind. The insects alluded to did not come from my vineyard, but from my cellar, as I informed Dr. Clifton, giving him a detailed account of their appearance, and my ineffectual efforts to destroy them with the fumes of sulphur. Every vineyardist who makes his business a study is well posted on the appearance of the phylloxera, and knows him to be a round headed, six legged individual with two antennæ, while the insects which I sent Dr. Clifton were sharp headed, eight legged, horny bodied and devoid of antennæ. I inclose a rough sketch of both the phylloxera from memory, and the insect in my cellar from actual observation through a microscope. Specimens of these insects have also been sent to Professor C. V. Riley at Washington, D. C., and Professor White at the university of Georgia. The only resemblance to the phylloxera is its size and perhaps a slight resemblance as to color. The cultivation of grapes is a new industry in the south, in fact, comparatively speaking, in America; and, fearing that the article in question might have a tendency to work an injury to what a few of us are trying to successfully build up in Georgia, I ask that you give this communication a like prominence to that occupied by the article in Saturday's paper.

Phyloxera—Six legs and antennæ.

Insect in my cellar—Eight legs, no antennæ.

Dr. T. S. Dekee has bought the body of Will Debill, the negro now awaiting in Thomas county jail the execution of the death sentence in June. Debill, for the valuable consideration of twenty dollars in hand paid, deeds his body to the doctor. There has been considerable remonstrance against his course on the part of the negroes, but Debill says the twenty dollars will enable him to live comfortably the rest of his days, and if the doctors can profit the living by having his body, he is willing.

Parties have just left Cartersville for the final prospecting trip to the Etowah property of 17,000 acres, mineral property. The gentlemen on the property were: E. E. Potter, Portland, Me.; D. G. Wiggins, Bethlehem, Pa.; General O. Granger, Philadelphia, Pa.; Albert E. Bagby, New York; Thomas Parks, Nashville. What the outcome will be for Cartersville is yet to be determined. They will look at other property in the south before returning.

Last fall the alliancemen of Coweta county agreed to operate a cotton warehouse of their own to handle their crop at Newnan. They rented a warehouse of Powell & Russell for the year ending September 1st, 1889. There are three warehouses in Newnan controlled by Powell & Russell, Arnold & Burdett and the other by Brown & Powell. The alliancemen have just learned that these warehouses have all been rented for the next year, thereby leaving them without any warehouse to handle their year's crop. Therefore they are now consulting as to the best plan to be independent of the warehousemen who are not alliancemen. They propose as one plan to build a warehouse of their own by assessing each member twenty-five cents a bale of cotton he raises this year to put up the necessary building, employ weighers, markers and draymen, all of whom are to be members of the alliance, thereby running the warehouse on the most economical basis. Newnan generally handles from 14,000 to 16,000 bales annually, and a majority of the farmers belong to the alliance. They think they can put up a warehouse and handle all their crop this season for about five thousand dollars, and by assessing each man according to the number of bales raised, they would equalize the expenses upon a fair and equitable basis. By this arrangement they say they can save money, give employment only to their members, and hire their own watchmen, bookkeepers, and other officers. They propose to put in several scales so as to weigh their cotton with dispatch, and have their own sworn weighers. The plan is meeting with general approval among all the wheel in the county.

With the exception of a very light shower, it has been five weeks since there was rain in Thomasville. The oat crop is being harvested rapidly now, and has been cut short. Corn and cotton are in excellent condition, but are beginning to need rain. All farms are free from grass, the dry weather giving a splendid chance to remove this pest. LeConte pears and other fruits promise well. The market is well stocked with strawberries, plums and May haws.

A note from Milledgeville says that the most brilliant meteor ever seen in middle Georgia flashed across the skies Friday night, from northeast to southwest, illuminating the earth as a brilliant lightning flash in a dark night. The credulous were startled, while the sceptic began to think.

LEITCH'S LOGIC.

Milledgeville Under Great Religious Excitement.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., May 26.—For the past three weeks Milledgeville has been under the greatest religious excitement seen here since the great meetings of Rev. Sam Jones six years ago. Rev. Thos. Leitch, the famous evangelist of the palmetto state, assisted by Rev. J. R. King, of the Methodist church, have been conducting a series of meetings in that church that have been attended by the largest crowds seen here in many a day. Rev. Leitch possesses that brings out immense crowds to hear him. At the beginning of the services his language was very uncouth; so much so that six of the official members of the church attempted to expel him from the pulpit. Ten of the official board, with the pastor, stood by him and he announced that "though the devils in hell arise and bid me hold, yet will I speak."

A PECULIAR ATTRACTIVENESS

After a week spent in stirring the church, he turned his attention to the sinners, and since then has preached with a tenderness and love that won the support of even those who wanted to

BANISH HIM FROM THE CHURCH.

Before his conversion, Rev. Leitch was a machinist and led a life of sin and shame; he tells the story of his conversion at a meeting in Brooklyn in a graphic manner. Though most of his evangelical work has been done in his native state, South Carolina, he is a member of the North Georgia conference, and has done some great work in this state.

During the meeting here, probably a hundred people professed conversion, great crowds accepted the invitations for prayer, many were reclaimed, and the entire congregation went forward and shook his hand last night, signifying that they intended to lead better lives in the future. Indeed, the meetings here have been a remarkable success.

Work on Thomasville's New Hotel.

GEORGE R. EAGER

GIVES HIS SIDE OF THE BOND STORY.

Mr. Eager Waited Upon in Macon for His Version—Mr. Jackson Makes an Explanation—Other News.

MACON, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—THE CONSTITUTION this morning containing the well written and most interesting account of the financial differences between Mr. George R. Eager, president of the North Georgia Improvement company, and Broker James U. Jackson, of Augusta, was widely and eagerly read in this city, causing considerable surprise.

MR. EAGER HEARS THE NEWS.

But, perhaps, the most surprised man in Macon was Mr. Eager himself, when your correspondent found him at the Hotel Lanier today, and placing a CONSTITUTION in his hand, said: "Mr. Eager, what have you to say to that?"

Mr. Eager read the head lines in astonishment, and greater grew his surprise as his eyes ran rapidly down the column, devouring every word.

He said not a word until he reached the signature, "Clark Howell, Jr.," at the bottom of the article, and then he uttered a deep grunt of surprise and said: "How in the world did Clark Howell learn about that matter. I did not speak to a soul on the matter while I was in Augusta, save to my attorney, Joe Cumming. Even my stenographer, who accompanies me on all my business trips, knew nothing of what was said and done by me in Augusta."

WHAT MR. EAGER SAID.

"What have you to say to Mr. Jackson's statement about the matter?" asked the correspondent.

"I have nothing whatever to say for publication," answered Mr. Eager. "It is a matter in which the public has no interest whatever," continued the gentleman.

Being pressed by the reporter for a word or two on the subject, Mr. Eager said the publication was so great a surprise to him that he would have to take a little time for consideration, and he courteously invited your correspondent to call to see him again in an half hour. The reporter returned and finally elicted the following:

Said Mr. Eager—I came down from Atlanta last night enroute to Cumberland island for recreation and rest, and stopped over in Macon on a little business matter, when you surprised me with the article in THE CONSTITUTION. The publication is a complete surprise to me. I did not have the faintest idea of it and was in no way responsible for it. There are differences between Mr. Jackson and myself, but they are of a purely private nature with which the Marietta and North Georgia railroad has nothing to do.

HIS VISIT TO AUGUSTA.

"I went to Augusta with the hope of adjusting the differences between Mr. Jackson and myself amicably, but, after an unsuccessful effort, left my claim with my attorney, Major J. B. Cumming. What the result will be I cannot foretell, and do not care to discuss it further."

"Will you go on to Cumberland, or will you return to Atlanta or Augusta?" asked the reporter.

"I will continue my trip to Cumberland, where I desire to obtain needed rest and recreation. While the publication was a great surprise, it shall not interfere with my visit to the coast."

WHAT MR. JACKSON SAYS.

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—THE CONSTITUTION'S story of the Eager-Jackson controversy was read with interest this afternoon. There are no further developments in the matter today. Mr. Bryan Cumming and Mr. James U. Jackson both request that it be stated that the Marietta and North Georgia railroad is not a party, and is in no way concerned in the matter. The bonds are not claimed by Eager as the property of the Marietta and North Georgia Railroad company, but as belonging to the North Georgia Improvement company. Mr. Jackson replies that he does not care to whom they belonged. They were furnished him by Eager in accordance with the terms of the contract between them, and he holds them as the property of Eager, and knows nobody else in the transaction. Eager, he claims, owes him fifty thousand dollars under their contract, and he is holding those bonds as security to protect himself in the premises.

A LIVELY RACKET.

Bill Johnson Tries to Kill Lewis Lestor This Morning.

MACON, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—It was not Bill Johnson's fault that he did not kill Lewis Lester this morning at eight o'clock, on Fourth street. Johnson and Lester are negroes. Lester clerks for Bart Carter, and went to Eli Bartow's, where Johnson clerks. Bartow made a demand on Lester for money due him. Lester refused to pay him and Johnson chimed in and told Lester he ought to pay the money. Lester turned on Johnson and commenced to curse him, and asked what he had to do with it.

Johnson drew his pistol and fired at Lester twice. One ball struck Lester in the arm and one struck him in the finger. Lester then started towards Johnson and Johnson, with the loaded pistol in his hand, commenced to run. Lester caught him, knocked him down and took the pistol from Johnson, and in the struggle the weapon fired accidentally. Johnson then drew a second pistol that he had in his pocket and tried to shoot Lester, pointing the pistol at his breast, but the weapon snapped three times.

At this juncture ex-Policeman Joe Porter bravely rushed between the two belligerents while they were trying to shoot one another, and prevented them. Policemen Adams and Greden now appeared and the negroes were taken to the barracks. Lester has taken a warrant for Johnson, charging assault with intent to murder.

THE TRADE NOT CLOSED.

The Offer of Over One Million Dollars for S. S. S. Still Open.

MACON, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—The people of Macon were greatly surprised to read in THE CONSTITUTION today of the reported sale of S. S. S. by Lamar, Rankin & Lamar, or the Swift Specific company, to foreign purchasers.

Colonel Lamar, the senior member of the firm, was seen today by your correspondent, and he was asked the truth of the reported sale.

Colonel Lamar did not deny that the company had been offered one million dollars for the medicine, but he said that no sale had yet been made. The straight offer of one million dollars was declined, but it is understood that the offer of one million, with the right for the Swift company to retain all present bills and accounts, and the right to reserve the plant of the company at Atlanta, estimated to be worth $200,000, was considered, and the would-be purchasers, it is said, were perfectly willing to trade on that basis.

Colonel Lamar says some of the company do not care to sell at the above figures and terms, and as Dr. Rankin, of Atlanta, has been forced to go to New York with his wife on account of her sickness, the trade will be held in abeyance until Dr. Rankin returns.

Will Macon Buy?

MACON, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—Mr. W. F. Morse, of New York, arrived in Macon yesterday to go before the finance committee of the council, tonight, and try and get the committee to recommend the purchase of a $5,000 eagle garbage crematory. If the crematory is guaranteed for five years, the council is disposed to buy one. Mr. Morse has just arrived from Jacksonville where he erected a crematory, also, one at Brunswick, and has contracts pending in several Florida towns. Macon needs a crematory very much for the distruction of garbage and all refuse matter.

United States Court.

MACON, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—United States vs. Flail Letson, charged with illicit distilling and working. Marion Erwin, attorney for the governmant; Hugh V. Washington for the defense. After argument by counsel the judge delivered his charge to the jury in his usual clear and intelligent style. The jury retired to their room for consultation. At this writing the jury have not agreed.

John R. Wimberly vs. A. B. & A. H. Small, action for damages. Passed to be taken up.

THE DUBLIN FIRE.

FULL LIST OF THE LOSSES AND THE INSURANCE.

The Total Loss About $45,000—The Fire Supposed to Have Been Started by Negro Gamblers.

DUBLIN, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—The people this morning are talking about the rebuilding of the burned district. Dublin does not intend to be downed by a fire.

THE ORIGIN OF THE FIRE.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have been the work of negro gamblers that were in the house all night.

Persons passing between midnight and day saw a light in the hall over Hightower's bar and heard some one up there. A drummer who drove by the bar just at daylight, says there was no fire in the house then, but in a few moments, before he had driven out of hearing distance, he heard the bells and other alarms, and returned to find the town in flames. Had the morning been otherwise than it was it would have been impossible to stay the flames until much more damage was done.

Twice the sign in front of Mrs. A. M. Prince's store was on fire, and three times the drugstore of H. Hicks & Co. was in flames, but both houses were saved.

The young ladies deserve great credit for the interest they manifested and the service they rendered. They did not hesitate to put their hands to the work, and rendered great aid in carrying water and saving goods.

THE LOSSES AND INSURANCE.

The losers were as follows:

M. L. Jones & Co., general merchandise, $4,000; insurance $2,750.

W. M. Hightower, bar and billiards, $6,000; no insurance.

George Bangs, jeweler, $450; no insurance.

F. W. Shelton, general merchandise, $2,000; no insurance.

B. F. Duggan & Co., fancy grocery, $750; no insurance.

J. S. Brady, fancy grocery and household goods, $1,200; no insurance.

G. W. Maddox, furniture and household goods, $2,500; no insurance.

J. M. Reinhardt & Co., bar, $1,500; no insurance.

J. L. Cowart & Co., $150.

Miss Susie Bearden, millinery, $100; no insurance.

Peter Franklin, $100.

The damage to the goods that were saved is about $1,500. Total, $20,150; insurance, $17,500.

This does not include buildings, which will make the total loss between $40,000 and $50,000.

DEATH FROM A SNAKE BITE.

Only 20 Minutes of Life After Having Been Bitten by a Rattler.

ATHENS, Ga., May 27—[Special.]—News reached Athens today of the death of a little child in Madison county, yesterday, from the effects of A SNAKE BITE.

The little boy was the nine year child of Dr. Mathews, living near Helicon springs, and was playing with his little brother in a brush heap near their home. He stepped upon a rotten log and a large rattlesnake in the calf of his leg. The child ran to the house, which was about two hundred yards away, but nothing could relieve him. He died in about twenty minutes. The snake was never found, but was supposed to have been a very large one.

BURIED HIS FANGS

ONE MAN TO BE HANGED

And Several Others Given Terms in the Pen.

BAINBRIDGE, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—Superior court was rather lively last week. A white man named Sanders was given one year for adultery. Mr. Burrell Griffin was tried for assault with intent to rape. The jury hung for half the night, and finally acquitted the said Burrel.

Alex Henderson, colored was found guilty of the murder of Amos Jackson and his child, both colored, and he was sentenced to be hung on the 14th of June. This will be the first execution in Decatur for the past thirty years, and as it will be public we anticipate the greatest crowd that ever assembled in these parts. THE CONSTITUTION shall be kept fully posted.

Tripoli in Rockmart.

ROCKMART, Ga., May 26.—[Special.]—Tripoli, a very valuable substance, has been found on Colonel Seaborn Jones's property, near his residence. It is a fine, light substance, of a yellowish color, entirely free from grit, and polishes the finest metals with great rapidity, without the objectionable qualities of other preparations, which often scratch and disfigure the wares. The vein is ten feet deep.

Render-McGehee.

NEWNAN, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—Miss Sallie McGehee, of Warnerville, Meriwether county, was married to Mr. J. L. Render, of Greenville, at the home of the bride on the 23d inst., Rev. J. H. Hall, of Newnan, an uncle of the bride, performing the ceremony.

At 4 O'clock This Afternoon,

On corner Decatur and Butler streets, Colonel Adair will sell the Bridwell property.

A GREAT SEAPORT.

THE MANIFEST DESTINY OF BRUNSWICK POINTED OUT.

The Brunswick and Cordele Railroad—The Town of South Brunswick to Spring Into Life—How the Work is to Be Done.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—Brunswick is destined to some day be the greatest seaport city on the south Atlantic coast, and if she continues her present rapid strides that day will not be far distant.

Recently a very strong company of northern and Georgia capitalists have purchased 3,500 acres of high land on the main channel in Brunswick harbor, and just across from the city proper, the deep water frontage of which is 6,500 feet. It is directly in the main channel in the harbor, which is completely landlocked, and where there is a minimum depth of twenty-one feet at low water. The company which has been chartered as the South Brunswick Harbor and Land company, with a capital of $1,000,000, and with Mr. W. F. Penniman, of Brunswick, as president, will immediately commence the construction of docks, wharves and warehouses which they expect to complete by the first of September. They have already given out the contract for the construction of the

as far as Waynesville, on the Brunswick and Western road, which, by their line, will be just fifteen miles from South Brunswick, but which, by the Brunswick and Western, is twenty-five miles from Brunswick proper. McDerrind & Ross, of New York, have taken the contract to complete the road to Waynesville by the first of September, and then it will be pushed rapidly on to Cordele, there to connect with the Atlanta and Florida and the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery, giving Brunswick a short line to Montgomery and the coal and iron fields of Alabama and to Atlanta and the west.

The scheme is a big one, but Mr. Penniman says the company has ample money, and that both the docks and railroad will be rapidly pushed to completion. He says the railroad will be in operation to Cordele within twelve months, and that within less than two years the town of South Brunswick, which is, by the way, only two miles across from the city of Brunswick proper, will contain at least three or four thousand people.

THE CONTEMPLATED TOWN

is located upon a beautiful, high, wooded island. Its health is as near perfection as possible, being high and well drained, while there are no fresh water ponds. The island will be laid off in lots at once, and as soon as the railroad and docks near completion they will be placed upon the market for sale.

If the railroad is built to Cordele, and there seems to be no reason why it should not, as the South Brunswich company has almost an unlimited supply of money at its back, it will add very greatly to the business of Brunswick, and give it sufficient railroad facilities to within a few years rival Savannah and Charleston.

IN THE DUNGEON NOW.

The Prisoners in Wilkinson County Try to Escape.

IRWINTON, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—Two negroes and one white man who are confined in jail at this place attempted to make their escape last night, but were foiled in the attempt. They were very bold, it seems, for the noise by which their project was discovered was first heard at 9 o'clock by a negro who was passing the street near the jail. Sheriff Fountain was at once notified, and he hurried to the jail to prevent further damages. As he approached the jail he heard the would-be fugitives run back to their cells. The three men were in a cell together, and by sharp manipulating managed to get out of this into the hall, and by means of a heavy bar that was torn from the cell they were trying to work their way out. It is hardly probable that they would have effected their escape, but Sheriff Fountain, in order to have them perfectly secure, placed them in a dungeon.

THE NINTH GEORGIA BATTALION.

The Military on the Boom—Preparing for St. Simons.

ATHENS, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—The military is on a boom in Athens. Colonel William J. Jones, of Elberton, has written here announcing the encampment in this city for the month of July of the Ninth Georgia battalion, made up of companies from various cities of this section. The Clarke Rifles will entertain them. It will be an unusual sight in Athens, and a great deal of enjoyment is anticipated.

Meanwhile the University company is practicing steadily, and will enter the drill at St. Simons. If they do the older companies had better look to their laurels. The company will be under the command of Colonel C. M. Melling, the university commander.

CAUGHT IN THE MACHINERY.

The Grit Displayed by Mr. Higginbothom.

WEST POINT, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—Mr. J. T. Higginbothom, superintendent Union Milling and Manufacturing company, while in the picker room adjusting some of the machinery today, got his hand caught and badly lacerated. It was necessary to cut out the middle finger of the wounded hand at the third joint; and with that cool courage characteristic of the man, he had the operation performed without taking morphine, chloroform, or ether. He stood it without moving a muscle, not even taking a drink of cool water. Drs. Horsley and Winston attended him.

A Burning in Conyers.

CONYERS, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—Yesterday morning about day, Mr. J. M. Williams lost his dwelling, kitchen and smoke house by fire.

The fire was first discovered in the dining room, and is supposed to have been caused by rats with matches. Only some bedding and a few household goods were saved. He lived six miles from here, at the John McNair place, near Smyrna camp ground, having purchased and moved there last winter. The burning will entail a loss of $800, as there was no insurance. A subscription list was circulated here today in Mr. Williams's behalf, and $67.55 in cash and goods was contributed.

An Elberton Excursion.

ELBERTON, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—The Elberton Sunday school picniced at Hartwell last Saturday. An excursion train was run, and carried near one thousand visitors to the beautiful little city, where they were met with a warm welcome. The people of Hartwell closed their places of business, threw open their dwellings, and the whole town turned out en masse to welcome and entertain the excursionists. The picnic was a complete success in every respect. No accident of any kind happened during the whole trip, though the crowd was so large it took two trains to carry it.

The Courier Changes Hands.

ELLIJAY, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—Mr. Walter S. Coleman, of this place, has sold the outfit and good will of the Ellijay Courier to Mr. F. B. Kirby, who will assume control of the Courier on June 1st. Mr. Coleman has run the Courier for four years past, and leaves the paper in the best circumstances ever enjoyed by this journal. He goes to Cedartown to assume control of his interest in the Standard next Saturday. The Standard will be under the joint management of W. S. Coleman and E. B. Russell.

Fire in Dougherty.

ALBANY, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—The dwellinghouse on the Tallassee place, thirteen miles from Albany, burned down Saturday night from a spark on the roof; loss $2,000, insurance $1,000, in the Queen Insurance company.

At 4 O'clock This Afternoon,

On corner Decatur and Butler streets, Colonel Adair will sell the Bridwell property.

STUART'S

I used one bottle of STUART'S GIN AND BUCHU, for suppression of urine, from which I have suffered considerably. The one bottle I used cured me entirely. Dr. R. A. FONTAINE, Rex, Ga., writes: Having effectually experimented with STUART'S GIN AND BUCHU, I can confidently recommend it to the cordial patronage of the profession and public for all kidney and urinary troubles, especially in their incipiency; it is incomparable, pleasant and reliable in action, an elegant and efficient preparation.

AND

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.—Stuart Manufacturing Company, Atlanta, Ga.: Gentlemen—I have been a great sufferer from catarrh of the bladder. I was advised by a physician to try STUART'S GIN AND BUCHU, which I did with the happiest results. I have not been troubled with my kidneys since using your valuable remedy.

BUCHU

For ten years I was greatly troubled by what good physicians called rheumatism or neuralgia of the bladder, and found no cure until I tried (without much faith) your STUART'S GIN AND BUCHU. The first bottle gave instant relief from pain in the bladder, put my kidneys in good order, relieved me from spinal weakness and gave me a good appetite. I have had no return of any of the symptoms of disease after using two bottles, though I expect to use the third bottle, and feel now that I will be entirely cured. Respectfully, E. D. L. MOBLEY.

ATLANTA, GA., MAY 27, 1889.

Atlanta and the Ironmasters.

The fight between the southern iron producers and those of Pennsylvania is still going on, although little is heard about it.

The southern ironmasters are not complaining, for the very good reason that the extraordinary cut in prices made by the Pennsylvanians doesn't amount to competition. It amounts only to driving the small furnaces in Pennsylvania to the wall, and we see by the newspapers that several of them are preparing to go to the wall.

If the southern producers were pinched at all, we should hear something of the matter in the southern newspapers, which are very sensitive to this sort of thing. Southern iron continues to hold its own, in spite of the defensive movement of the Pennsylvanians. The report of the secretary of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway company, of Chattanooga, has just been published, and it gives some idea of the business done in southern iron. The concern mentioned sold last year 224,634 tons, in no less than twenty different states.

Ohio took more than twice as much of this iron than all the south and southwest together. The New Orleans Times-Democrat has analyzed the figures, and it finds a condition of affairs that is very promising for southern interests. Dividing the sales according to sections, it is found that 37,648 tons went to the east, 156,620 tons to the north and west, and 30,366 tons to the south and southwest. The great iron state of Ohio took 65,561 tons; Missouri, also a large producer, 23,733 tons, New York 22,493 tons, and even Pennsylvania 6,777 tons.

To these figures our New Orleans contemporary appends a moral that THE CONSTITUTION has been insisting on for many long and weary years. Why should the south send iron into other parts of the country to be made into stoves, machinery and agricultural implements? Why cannot these things be made next door to the iron regions—in Atlanta, for example?

The northern cotton mills are gradually making their way in this direction, and why should not the northern foundries find a place here? Atlanta is near enough to the ore producing regions to afford a wide and a profitable field to the workers in iron, and if our citizens could be brought to appreciate the situation, it would not be long before this town would become the center of the busiest hive of workers to be found in the country.

The way is clear, the season propitious and the time ripe. Should the picayunishness of a few be allowed to stand in the way?

Compulsory Education.

A bill will be introduced in the next legislature by Hon. W. A. McDonald, the member from Ware, looking to making education a matter of compulsion. Mr. McDonald is one of the most active champions of education in the present legislature, and will use the arguments in favor of his measure to such advantage as to insure a strong support for the bill.

Mr. McDonald's bill proposes to make it compulsory on all persons having charge of children between six and eighteen years of age "to send them to school a sufficient length of time each year to receive the benefit of the public school fund appropriated by the state, city or counties," and provides a penalty for violation of the same.

The general nature of this bill is such as to commend it to the careful consideration of thinking men all over the state. Compulsory education has been discussed for many years, and it cannot be doubted that there are two sides to the question.

The merits of Mr. McDonald's proposition will offer a new field for discussion in the legislature, for it has not been up before for legislative action. There are, of course, arguments against it, but the distinguished gentleman from the wire-grass will be prepared to smooth the way for the passage of his bill. If he does it Georgia will be committed to a most important experiment.

The Fires of a Year.

The bound volume of the Chronicle's "Fire Tables for 1889," contains many suggestive facts and figures.

Last year we had in this country 16,019 fires, destroying about $111,000,000 worth of property, a decrease of 377 fires and $9,000,000 as compared with the record of the preceding year.

In the south the loss of property was about $16,000,000, a falling off of $8,000,000 compared with 1887. Most of the fires in Georgia last year were supposed to be due to incendiarism. The classes of property that suffered most were gin houses and dwellings, fifty-eight of the former and 225 of the latter having been burned. The fires in the dwellings, as a rule, are credited to defective flues.

One cannot glance over these statistics without coming to the conclusion that the best way to decrease the number of fires in Georgia would be to guard more vigilantly against incendiaries, and have a system of building inspection that would promptly expose and condemn defective flues. Our fire losses run up into the millions every year. A little money and a little care spent in prevention would be a good investment.

Democratic Chances.

Somehow or other the opinion seems to be deep rooted with the republican party that it has come to stay, and this notion has seized the republican press with an air of absolute confidence.

But let us look at the situation: The democracy will almost certainly carry every state in 1892 that it did in 1888. A failure to do this would upset even the basis of estimate, and as there can be no real doubt that the democrats will hold these states three years hence, we will proceed with this admitted.

The republicans will probably gain nothing from the new states, for it seems that they will divide between the two parties, the democrats getting Montana and Washington and the republicans the two Dakotas. Hence the battle grounds of the next campaign will be the doubtful states of 1888—New York, Indiana and Connecticut, for New Jersey can no longer be regarded as doubtful, and the republicans are reasonably certain of holding all of the states, excepting the above, that they carried last time.

It must be remembered that in the popular vote the democratic majority reached nearly 100,000. This is a wonderful lever for the defeated party to force its way back to power, and it can be used to immense advantage in the next election. Then New York is really a democratic state, and it will be a much easier matter for the democracy to retake it in '92 than it will be for the republicans to retain it. This state regained and the victory is ours.

The chances are bright for the democracy, and if the party will unite and throw the old time spirit in the next campaign, it will name the next president. Harmony and concert of action is most needed, and this guaranteed, the battle would be half won.

The "Pompeii" Spectacle Tonight.

The marvels of the modern spectacle were never more strikingly displayed than in the Pompeiian show which opens in Atlanta tonight. An artificial lake dug and filled—an ancient city built only to be tumbled down—a mountain 90 feet high towering above the city—the whole covering several acres—these are some of the points of wonder!

It is precisely the same spectacle that has amazed London, that has surprised millions at Manhattan beach, and that at Cincinnati and Chicago has its nightly triumph. Messrs. Pain & Co. guarantee that this spectacle shall be given here precisely as it is given in these cities, and this identical city is to be removed when its six nights engagement is played here, to Manhattan beach!

Mr. Cohen, in whose admirable management the local affairs have rested, has everything in order for the grand opening tonight. There are 9,000 seats. Of these, 1,500 are chairs placed on raised tiers in the diamond of the baseball park, and numbered and sold at $1 each. Back of these are 2,000 reserved seats at 75 cents each, and while these seats are not numbered, only 2,000 will be sold. Outside of these are 5,500 seats at 50 cents each. A force of ushers and of policemen will keep perfect order. The electric lights make the whole ground as bright as day. The official building commissioners have pronounced the seats perfectly safe.

A thousand or so visitors will reach the city today to visit the great spectacle, but most of our neighbors will wait until it has been seen and approved by our own people. But the city folks will be out in force. The Union Street Car company has laid an extra track to Marietta street, and will put on a line of 70 cars that will leave, as filled, from the artesian well. The signs point to an auspicious night and a great show.

IT is stated that Texas has never had a native born governor. This is as it should be. The great majority of Texans are Georgians, and that is the secret of the prosperity of Texas.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

THREE AMERICAN LADIES recently had a rough experience in France. Their dressmaker made an overcharge in her bill, and the ladies disputed it. For this they were arrested and lodged in a dirty cell where they remained until friends secured thir release. The French authorities could see that they were respectable persons with plenty of money, but they treated the unprotected Americans just as they would have treated the vilest criminals. The attention of our consul was called to the case, but he said that he could think of no remedy. Americans traveling in Europe will do well to exercise great caution, and when it is practicable they should know their bankers, their landlord and their consul well enough to command their immediate services when they get into trouble.

WE GET A GOOD many ideas of Washington from Parson Weems, who wrote his life and also a life of Francis Marion. Weems did not care what he wrote, so it was a good story. He sold his own books, traveling on horseback through the south. The parson did not care where he went or with whom he associated. He fiddled his way through the country, preaching, and attending horse races and fairs. The famous little hatchet story rests entirely upon Weems's authority.

"THE BUSTED EX-TEXAN" is the title of a story written for the New York World by W. H. H. Murray. Twenty years ago Murray was one of the most popular preachers in Boston. He wrote for the magazines and lectured. Financial troubles drove him from the pulpit, and he became a wanderer. He tried a farm in Texas and a restaurant in Canada, and failed. Then he picked himself up, resumed his pen, and now makes a living by grinding out sensational stories. Few men have gone through more ups and downs than Mr. Murray.

MACON, Ga., May 24.—Mr. H. W. Grady—Sir: Mrs. U. M. Gunn has just handed me forty dollars, proceeds of a festival given by the ladies of Vineville, to be applied to the Confederate Soldiers' Home. I am instructed to say they regret the sum for so noble a cause is not greater. I add my humble mite, ten dollars, to enlarge their contribution. I hope to be able to send you more before you cease your efforts. A God bless you from the wives and mothers of the confederate soldiers accompanies their offering. Respectfully,

THOS. HARDEMAN.

THE REPORTS ON TEMPERANCE.

The Northern Presbyterians Discuss the Subject.

NEW YORK, May 27.—In the Presbyterian general assembly this afternoon the discussion was on "temperance." The first and second recommendations of the standing committee's report, deploring the ruinous effect of intoxicating liquor and calling on ministers, elders and congregations to help to crush the traffic, were carried. The third recommendation caused more debate than any single resolution since the assembly opened. It called for sympathy for the "widespread movement now in progress in favor of the complete suppression of the traffic in intoxicating liquors as a beverage." A minority report, signed by five of the committee, and headed by F. R. Wotring of Nebraska, was presented to replace this resolution. They expressed sympathy "with the widespread movement in progress for constitutional prohibition."

Rev. J. Logan Sample proposed to substitute the minority report for the third resolution. Rev. John Fox proposed an amendment to the effect that the assembly would not commit itself to any political party.

Dr. Crosby opposed the report of the committee and minority report. He said prohibition was the worst enemy of true temperance. It might do in rural districts, but it would be ruinous to introduce it in large cities.

Rev. William H. Hubbard moved that Rev. Mr. Fox's substitute be laid on the table. This was carried by nearly two to one. The minority report was then defeated by 21 to 105. Professr Duffield, of Princeton, moved that the minority report be adopted with the word "constitutional" left out.

"I want this assembly to deliver a judgment for prohibition, pure and simple."

A motion to lay this on the table was carried by 166 to 146. Other resolutions were then adopted with slight amendments.

THE EVENING SESSION.

At the evening session of the Presbyterian general assembly, Dr. Thompson arose and said that in view of the fact that many had not understood the import of the resolution adopted on the temperance question at the afternoon session, he would move the adoption of the following resolution in explanation:

"Resolved, That the general assembly, in reaffirming the deliverance of former assemblies, calls attention to the deliverance of 1885, which says: 'That we earnestly recommend to ministers and congregations in our connection, and to all others, to persevere in vigorous efforts until laws in every state and territory of our beloved country, prohibiting entirely the traffic which is the principal cause of drunkenness and its consequent pauperism, crime, taxation, lamentation, of war and ruin to bodies and souls of men.

MISSISSIPPI'S FEMALE COLLEGE.

An Institution for the Higher Education of Girls Supported by the State.

MERIDIAN, Miss., May 27.—[Special.]—In a recent issue of THE CONSTITUTION an editoral headed "An Industrial School for Girls," in which it is stated that the Hon. W. Y. Atkinson, of Coweta county, has announced his purpose to introduce at the summer session of the Georgia legislature a bill for the establishment of an industrial school for girls; and it is further stated, "that it is particularly appropriate that Georgia, the most progressive of all the southern states, should lead in a movement inaugurating such practical benefit for those of our girls who would be glad to take advantage of such an opportunity." Also, that "Mississippi has already taken a step in this direction in providing for the practical education of females in the agricultural college of the state." The truth is, that Mississippi, besides admitting young ladies into her university and agricultural and mechanical college, has had for five or six years, in successful operation, an "Industrial Institute and College," for the higher education of her white girls. The last catalogue shows twenty-six members of the faculty and an enrollment of 385 young ladies. Besides the literary and scientific course, are taught, bookkeeping, telegraphy, phonography and typewriting, dressmaking, painting and music. The school is located at Columbus, which city contributed twenty acres of ground, a large unfurnished brick school building and $50,000, the state donating about $100,000 to build and equip the institute, and annually appropriates between twenty and thirty thousand dollars for its support.

Registered Letters Stolen.

CHICAGO, May 27.—The vault in the registered letter division of the postoffice was entered last night and eighty-six registered letters were stolen. It is believed to have been the work of some one entirely familiar with the office.

A SAD DEATH.

Miss Flora Estelle Lowry Passes Away After a Brief Illness.

Miss Flora Estelle Lowry, the eldest daughter of Mr. T. J. Lowry, died last night at the residence of her cousin, Mr. W. C. Leigh, in West End.

She was sick only a few days. Last Thursday afternoon she became suddenly ill, and her parents who thought it would improve her condition, removed her from their home, No. 10 Orme street, to West End.

Miss Lowry's death is one of peculiar sadness, and her sudden taking off will bring sorrow to many hearts. She had just attained her twentieth year, and was a young lady of great sweetness of temper, lovely character and rare beauty. She completely charmed all with whom she came in contact, and numbered her friends by the score. She was a devoted member of the First Methodist church.

The remains will be taken to Marietta for interment.

Back From the West.

Mr. Charles Walker, of the Western and Atlantic has just returned from a seventeen days' trip to the mighty west. He went out to Denver to take a peep at the conductors' national convention, and afterward touched at Omaha, Salt Lake City and Ogden, returning via Chicago. He took a bath in the great salt lake, and saw the big Mormon temple, which was begun in 1846 and is not yet finished. Four million dollars have already been expended on this pile of granite, and one and a half million more will be put on it. They expect to complete the building in about three years. He attended services at the great tabernacle, which holds 12,000 people. Charley says that the Mormons are losing ground and will die after awhile. He gives a glowing account of the grand things he saw, and only regrets that all of his Atlanta friends were not with him.

An Aged Lady's Death.

Mrs. Elizabeth Vickers died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Vickers, No. 54 East Ellis street, at 12:30 this morning. Mrs. Vickers was ninety-one years of age. Her remains will be taken to Fairburn at 1 o'clock today for interment.

"The Old Colonel."

From Current Literature.

Wallace Putnam Reed, of THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, enjoys the reputation of being one of the most brilliant and versatile short story and sketch writers in the country. He is a development of THE CONSTITUTION. He is about thirty-nine years of age, sandy haired, blue eyes, a six-footer, and married. His literary industry and accomplishment are marvelous. Besides his short-story and book-making work he is an editorial writer on THE CONSTITUTION. His last published work is "The History of Atlanta." This book is said to be a model of what a town history should be. The inside history of the siege of Atlanta is told for the first time, the author being both spectator and participant. Atlanta is proud of the book, and a southern reviewer says of Mr. Reed and his work, "few towns and fewer events in this country are fortunate enough to claim so delightful a chronicler."

Politics in Arkansas.

From the Chicago News.

"I understand," said the stranger in Arkansas, "that this congressional district would show a republican majority if a full vote were polled."

"You have been misinformed, sir," replied the native, "or else you do not keep posted on current events. The republican majority which you speak of was buried two weeks ago with its boots on."

"Uncle Remus" Denies It.

Sunday evening Rev. Dr. Lee united in marriage Miss Ida Kenney and Mr. Jerome Johnson. The marriage was quite a romantic one, both parties being very young—Mr. Johnson twenty-one and Miss Kenney sixteen. Mr. Johnson lives in Marietta, and on Sunday came down to see Miss Kenney, going to church with her that evening, the marriage occurring immediately after the service. The marriage was very much of a surprise to the young lady's parents, who objected on account of her youth. The friends of the young couple unite in wishing them much happiness.

AFTER TWENTY-EIGHT YEARS.

An Envelope Containing $550 in Confederate Money Returned to the Owner.

Here is a true story of the days of '61 that will do to keep:

During that year Mr. W. J. Houston, now of DeKalb county, and Dr. W. S. Zellars, now of Campbell county, were residents of Atlanta.

Mr. Houston was the treasurer of a society of which Dr. Zellars was a member. Dr. Zellars was the happy possessor of $550 in confederate money, which he carefully sealed in a big envelope and committed to the hands of Mr. Houston for safe keeping.

The gentlemen drifted apart, and met no more until last week.

Mr. Houston is foreman of the United States circuit court jury, and in talking with the jurors he recognized Dr. Zellars, whom he had not seen for twenty-eight years.

After a pleasant greeting Mr. Houston said: "You remember the money you placed in my hands in 1861?"

"Oh, yes," replied Dr. Zellars.

"Well," said Mr. Houston, "I've got it yet and I'm going to bring it to you."

So, yesterday morning in the United States courtroom, Mr. Houston handed Dr. Zellars a time-worn package.

It was the original big sealed envelope and contained $550 in the same bills which had been put there by Dr. Zellars in 1861.

A DIFFERENCE OF OPINION.

Governor Taylor, of Tennessee, Refuses to Grant Three Requisitions from Georgia.

A short time before Governor Gordon left for the Washington centennial, eleven requisitions—all from the Blue Ridge circuit—were made upon Governor Taylor, of Tennessee, for the arrest of men who had fled from justice in Georgia.

Governor Gordon has received a letter from Governor Taylor, in which he states that after a thorough investigation of the eleven cases he has caused warrants to be issued for the arrest of seven of the fugitives—that he is still considering one case—and has declined to grant requisitions in three cases for the reason that the men for whom they were drawn are charged with misdemeanors which were not committed in border counties.

Governor Gordon differs from him and has addressed him a letter explaining his views at length. This letter will not be given to the public.

Just what course Governor Gordon wil pursue should Governor Taylor persist in his refusal to give these men up remains to be seen.

The Zouaves' Entertainment.

The entertainment of the Zouaves was quite a success financially, $208 being realized above all expenses. With this money the company will fit up a reception room and parlor, in connection with its pretty little armory on Marietta street.

IT WILL BE BUILT.

The Capital Stock of the Fulton County Street Railroad Company Increased to $100,000.

The Fulton County Street railroad will be build.

In obedience to a call of the directors of the Fulton County Street Railroad company a meeting of the stockholders was held last night at the chamber of commerce for the purpose of increasing the capital stock of the company.

The attendance was good, a majority of the stock being represented.

President L. J. Hill occupied the chair, and W. S. Thomson, the secretary, was on hand.

Mr. Jack J. Spalding offered a resolution that the capital stock of the company be increased from $50,000 to $100,000.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

The stockholders mean business, and the road is going to be built.

The invitation was a hearty one, and was signed by Governor Gordon, Mayor Glenn, J. G. Oglesby, H. W. Grady, S. M. Inman, E. P. Howell, R. F. Maddox, A. E. Buck, Governor Bullock, R. J. Lowry, and others.

$30 to Topeka and Return.

Mess Editors:—President Estill, in his circular, advises all who are going on the trip with the Georgia press, to provide themselves with at least $30.

Will you kindly ask President Estill, of the Georgia Press association, how much he proposes to take on our jaunt to Topeka. Have we not always taken enough to pay expenses; does our worthy president fear that some of us will go short-handed and borrow? Never fear, brother Estill; we never see credits given, when due us by your paper, and we never borrow from a man who don't credit.

Died Away From Home.

Mrs. J. R. Hosch, whose home is at Hoschton, Ga., died at the Metropolitan hotel early this morning. Mrs. Hosch and her children had been on a visit to southwest Georgia, where Mr. Hosch runs a large sawmill. While there the children contracted the measles, and the mother caught the disease from them. She grew better, and thought herself well enough to return to her home. They all got to Atlanta, and here the mother, after lingering several days, died.

THE WATER QUESTION.

THE COMMITTEES AND COMMISSION ON A TOUR.

They Visits the Waterworks and Some Fall in the Creeks—Some of the Recommendations That May Be Made—Further Trips to Be Made.

A committee to investigate the city's water supply went out to the water works yesterday afternoon.

The committee was appointed by the general council for the purpose of making a thorough examination of the present supply, and report as to the best methods of increasing the same if, in their judgment, it was not adequate to the present demand, and also to make recommendations regarding the location and erection of a complete new set of works, if such was deemed advisable.

The party was composed of Mayor Glenn, Alderman Howell, Alderman Hirsch, Judge C. Hammock, president of the board o water commissioners; Hon. W. A. Hemphill, chairman waterworks commission; Mr. Howell C. Erwin and Mr. Z. H. Smith, of the board; Mr. W. G. Richards, superintendent, and City Engineer Clayton and ex-Mayor Hillyer, Hon. Jacob Elsas, Mr. George Winship, Dr. A. W. Calhoun, Mr. L. P. Grant and Mr. J. R. Wylie ann Mr. John R. Gramling, who were requested to act as a committee of citizens with the water committee and water board.

Messrs. Grant and Hemphill did not go out with the committee, however, being unavoidably detained, but will be taken over the same ground some time this week by Superintendent Richards.

The party started from Mayor Glenn's office a little after three o'clock in carriages.

Before going to the waterworks the gentlemen were driven out to West End and beyond, in order that they might be afforded an opportunity of seeing the watershed, from which Todd branch is supplied, that they would be better acquainted with the character of the water furnished by that stream. From here the committee was driven across the country to the head of the reservoir, at the point where Hardin branch, which is the principal source of supply, flows in.

AT THE BRANCH.

The gentlemen got out of the carriages some distance above the flowing-in point and, rolling up their trousers, walked along the banks of the stream, making a critical examination of the character of the water, and a general investigation of the supply.

Just near the point where the stream empties into the reservoir a weir had been constructed by Chief Engineer Travis, so that the committee might measure for themselves the quantity of water which Hardin branch was capable of pouring into the reservoir daily.

At this weir Engineer Clayton took his rule from his pocket and made an estimate of the capacity of the stream. His mearurement showed that Hardin branch is now capable of supplying only about possibly a little more. The supply which this stream affords has been gradually decreasing, and it is only a question of time when it will be entirely inadequate to the demands of the city, even though the population were not to increase at all. It is argued that the rapid growth of the city, both in point of number and number and magnitude of her manufacturing enterprises, makes the supply obtained from Hardin branch even more precarious, though most of the gentlemen were of the opinion that it would be ample for three or four years yet at least. They were satisfied that the water of this stream was, as yet, reu and wholesome, but thought it would not be many years, at the present rate of improvements in the country drained by Hardin branch, before the water would necessarily become contaminated.

From Hardin branch the party drove about two miles around the reservoir to what is known as on Pool's branch. There had been quite a good deal of discussion regarding the purchase of this stream, and turning it into the reservoir. It had been claimed by the advocates of this scheme that this would make the supply sufficient for any emergency. The committee investigated this source of supply very carefully, and when they make their report it will no doubt receive its full share of attention.

The gentlemen, after making a careful survey of the surroundings and accessibility of this stream, entered the carriages again, and were driven direct to the waterworks pumping station, where they took in all the different points, examining the engines, filters and, in fact, everything about the place.

One thing that attracted a great deal of attention and brought up considerable discussion was the large amount of water wasted in the condensing process and by leakage through the filters. It wos ascertained that the amount absolutely wasted in this way was between three and four hundred thousand gallons per day.

This information created quite a little sensation among the gentlemen of the committee, and for remedying this evil.

The one which was generally accepted as the most feasible was offered by Mr. Howell Erwin. His suggestion was to stop entirely the use of the reservoir water for the engines, and instead utilize the water of Todd branch, which is useless for anything else. This water could be brought into use for this purpose very easily, and at comparatively small cost. By adopting this plan nearly a half a million gallons per day could be saved to the city, or nearly half as much as the present supply.

The tourists went from here up the enbankment to the top of the reservoir, where they spent some time in examining the dam and discussing the low stage of the water in the basin. The water usually remains at a stationary depth, the streams supplying all the water consumed, but during the past week or two nearly two feet have been pumped out, and the depth is gradually decreasing. No danger of a shortage is anticipated, however.

Mayor Glenn, with Messrs. Howell Erwin, Judge Hammock, Mr. Howell, Mr. Elsas and Superintendent Richards, took a boat and went out in the middle of the reservoir to examine the overflow apparatus.

When they had returned, all got into the carriages and were driven around the edge of the basin and alongside of Todd's branch, which runs by the side of the reservoir. This afforded them an opportunity of examining the water of this branch and observing the manner in which the dam and canals were constructed. The unanimous opinion was that the water of Todd's branch was and that it would never do to turn it into the basis with that of Hardin branch and mix them up and pump them to the city.

This was the last point visited by the committee, and from here they drove back to the city and the mayor's office, where a short meeting was held.

At the meeting it was decided that the entire committee would go in a body to the on next Tuesday. They will leave the mayor's office at seven o'clock in the morning, taking their lunches with them, and returning in the evening.

Today or tomorrow City Engineer Clayton will go out to the river and make measurements and surveys of the Chattahoochee and Nancy's creek, having them in readiness for the committee when they go out next Tuesday.

When the committee goes out they will go all over the ground, and select what they think the most eligible site for a new waterworks plant, as it is the unanimous opinion that the city must have a better and more reliable water supply; that is by the time a new plant can be completed, the city will have grown to such an extent that it will be an absolute necessity, and that it is better to begin in time than to wait until it is too late to prevent a shortage, and perhaps suffering.

Some of the gentlemen who went out yesterday were opposed to building new works before they went, but last night they expressed themselves as convinced of the necessity of a new system, and that the only thing now was the devising of ways and means to secure it.

THE MAYOR TAKES A TUMBLE.

While the party was making its way along the banks of the Hardin branch yesterday afternoon some amusing incidents occurred.

The stream had to be crossed several times in order to avoid some very muddy consequences. On one occasion Judge Hillyer, who thought he knew the lay of the land pretty well, concluded he would steal a march on the balance of the party by going a little farther and crossing where he thought there was a dam. The judge went picking his way through the bushes. When he found himself he was about half a mile away from where he left his friends, and yet the dam was not to be found. He was compelled to retrace his steps, and when he again came up with the party they were about to start off in the carriages, concluding that he had decided to turn round and walk back to town without telling his friends.

The most amusing incident of the day was an accident which happened to Mayor Glenn and Alderman Joe Hirsch.

At the weir which Mr. Travis had constructed, there had been a plank laid from one side of the stream to the other. Several of the party had already crossed on this plank, but when it came the mayor's turn, it happened that Alderman Hirsch was still on it. Alderman Hirsch is one of the heavy weights of the council, and when Mayor Glenn had about reached the center of the board, a loud crack was heard, and in an instant the mayor and alderman were clasped in each other's embrace in the middle of the stream. The water was shallow, however, and as both came up on their feet, their wetting was slight. The incident created a great deal of merriment though, and the mayor said that stream looked twice as large when he got out. He thinks that the water was rather wet, too.

Alderman Hirsch also thinks that the stream was a pretty big one, or it would not have held him. He is certain that the water supply in that vicinity is abundant.

THE LIBRARY EXCURSIONS.

An Itemized Schedule of the Expense—Some Points of Interest.

The library excursions to Lookout Mountain promise to be popular.

The directors of the Young Mens' Library association are hard at work arranging the details.

An itemized schedule of the expenses of the trip as furnished by the directors reads:

Round trip ticket, $4. Coupon ticket covering expenses to and from the junction to mountain top and return, and admission to Lookout mountain park, 40 cents. Hotel rates at the Mountain house on Lookout, or the Kennedy house, in Chattanooga, per day, $1.50.

The tickets are good to return on any regular passenger train.

It will be seen that the entire expenses for the three days would be only eight dollars and ninety cents.

The dates fixed upon are between the dates of the Pompeiian exhibition, so that visitors in the city may divide their attention between Lookout and Versuvius.

The Chattanooga and Lookout Mountain railroad use the best Pullman cars, and the engines are equipped with Westinghouse and Earnes automatic brakes. The length of the road from Chattanooga to the summit of the mountain is fifteen miles, and the following points of interest can be seen along the route:

St. Elmo, a picturesque suburb named from Augusta Evans' fascinating novel. She made a faithful pen picture of the surroundings, and it is interesting to view the scenes made vivid by the personality of her "grand, gloomy and peculiar" hero, so dear to the school girls' heart.

Below the road lies the scene made memorable by Hooker in his "battle above the clouds;" above, the old Craven's house, the headquarters of General Walthall during the fight.

Then there is the confederate signal station, from which the movements of Hooker's army were flagged to Bragg on Mission ridge; just west of the signal station the old confederate fort is still standing. From the road, too, can be seen Rock city, one of nature's greatest wonders.

The line ends at Point Lookout, 1,700 feet above Chattanooga. Here the view beggars description. Overlooking seven states, commanding the battle grounds of Chicamauga and Missionary ridge, and standing like a sentinel among the grand hosts of mountains.

Subdued by the grandeur of this endless chain, the eye rests in calm content upon the peaceful valley of the Tennessee, grateful for its blessed repose.

FROM OUR NOTEBOOK.

Odds and Ends Picked Up by Constitution Reporters.

S. P. C. A. Meeting—The Atlanta branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will meet today in the Young Men's Library association at 4 p. m., to elect officers. The presence of every member is expected.

Will Manufacture Sweetness.—The stockholders of the new perfumery company recently located in Atlanta met yesterday to take steps toward complete organization. The concern comes from Jacksonville where it was the Florida Perfumery company. By just what name it will be known in the future has not yet been decided. At yesterday's meeting a committee consisting of Mr. Louis Wellhouse, Mr. Ed Soundstrom and Mr. Jesse W. Rankin, Jr., was appointed to act upon the matter of organization and name. This committee will meet this afternoon.

A Law Partnership.—Hon. Albert Cox and Hon John C. Reed have formed a law partnership. Both gentlemen are eminent in their profession, and the firm as thus made up will be regarded as one of the strongest at the Atlanta bar.

A Solemn Occasion.—The memorial services next Thursday over the the federal dead in the national cemetery, at Marietta, will be very largely attended. O. M. Mitchell post, Grand Army of the Republic, will go up in a body, and the music will be furnished by the post band. The address will be delivered by Doctor James G. Armstrong, of this city.

A Pleasant Trip.—Hon. Amos J. Cummings, of the New York Sun, and Hon. W. A. Platt, of the New York Mail and Express, accompanied by Captain E. P. Howell, went up the Marietta and North Georgia road yesterday morning to take a peep at the marble quarries of Pickens county. The distinguished journalists were very much pleased with what they saw and expressed the greatest surprise at the extent of the marble fields and the wonderful development which is going on up there. The party returned to the city in the afternoon.

Messrs. Cummings and Platt left for Birmingham last night. They will return to Atlanta Thursday and take a trip to Stone mountain.

The Champion Chess Player.—McKenzie, the world's renowned chess player, is expected to reach Atlanta today. While here he will play a number of games with the best players in Atlanta. The programme is now being arranged, and will in due time be given to the public.

Will Be Dedicated Today.—The beautiful and commodious library building, recently completed at Gammon Theological seminary, will be formally dedicated this afternoon at 2:30. One of the foremost among the thinkers and orators of the Methodist Episcopal church has been secured to give the dedicatory address, the Rev. Dr. Charles H. Payne, of New York city. On Sunday morning Dr. Payne preached the baccalaureate sermon before an audience that completely filled the chapel of Clark university, among the assembly being some of the prominent citizens of Atlanta. Although the sermon was over an hour in length, the eloquent speaker held the undivided attention of all. The discourse was on the "Presence of the Supernatural," and the theme was presented with rare ability and power. The dedicatory services today will doubtless attract a large audience.

The Lunatic Asylum.—A warrant was drawn on the treasury yesterday for $14,583.37, in favor of Lucius J. Lamar, treasurer of the state lunatic asylum, to pay the appropriation for the support of that institution for the month of May.

The Home Insurance Case.—Attorney-General Anderson was engaged yesterday in looking into the law bearing upon the Atlanta Home Insurance company case. His opinion will be ready in a day or two.

The County Tax.—In an interview in the Augusta Chronicle, Judge Eve, speaking of the recent meeting of the road congress, said: "Colonel Adair stated on the floor that the county tax of Fulton was 67 cents, while here in Richmond it is only 31 cents."

Colonel Adair meant that the state and county tax is 67 cents. The county tax of Fulton is only about 30 cents.

WATERMELON RATES

LOWER THAN EVER—NO REDUCTION BEYOND THE OHIO.

But the Eight Mills Basis May be Extended West of the River—More Ventilated Cars and Twenty-Mile Schedules.

The watermelon business is now the chief concern of railroads here in Georgia.

A few days ago the traffic managers of the roads concerned, met at the Kimball house to discuss ways and means of getting the crop to market quickly. The result of their deliberations was the adoption of twenty miles an hour schedules and close connections by all the roads interested in the melon freights. The running time will be twenty miles, and only necessary stops will be added. The roads all agreed to make schedules for fruit trains so that each connecting line would have a train ready to take out melons brought to its terminus by other roads. In addition to this connecting lines will be advised by wire of the number of cars in transit to be delivered to it for its next schedule. In this way motive power, in proportion to the number of cars, will be ready to take them on. In short, the roads propose to handle the business a little better than they have ever handled it before.

Last year, according to the statistics of the Albany convention, the net return to growers averaged $46 on melons in ventilated and $7 on those in box cars. It is a desideratum this year to use as few box cars as possible. Last year about twenty-five per cent of the crop was shipped in box cars. This year the roads propose to do much better in this respect. The East Tennessee people say they will beat everything they have done heretofore by using ventilated cars and fast schedules. The Louisville and Nashville people, who had a fine service last year, have added 500 new ventilated cars which they will use in the Georgia melon crop.

The Western and Atlantic people say they and their connections will use very few box cars, and not at all unless the shippers crowd in on some particular days.

There are new lines which will compete as outlets for the Georgia business. The Macon and Covington will take melons from Macon to Athens and there deliver them to the Richmond and Danville. The melons from the new territory on the Georgia Southern and Florida will largely go that way, it is thought. Those from the Atlanta and Florida can go out by any of the lines from Atlanta east or west. The additional crop on the 1,000 acres new territory between Macon and Cochran has been sold ahead in Boston. It is a special crop, and Mr. Griffin thinks will turn out from 500 to 600 cars of select fruit. The East Tennessee line, of course, will carry that business as far as Norfolk.

Schedules were arranged at the Kimball house meeting so that the Savannah, Florida and Western railroad will run trains to Albany, leaving Valdosta in the morning, gathering loaded cars on the way and delivering them to the Central at Albany in the evening, so that it may deliver them to the Louisville and Nashville at Montgomery at five o'clock the next morning. The Louisville and Nashville will run a train from Montgomery at six o'clock a. m. on a thirty-hour schedule to Louisville, and a thirty-six hour schedule to Cincinnati. The same time will be made by trains leaving Valdosta in the evening, connecting at Montgomery twenty-four hours later.

The Savannah, Florida and Western trains to Albany will also connect with fast freight schedules of about ten hours to Atlanta, and here with twenty miles an hour schedules over the Western and Atlantic railroad to Chattanooga and the west. The schedule from here to Cincinnati will be about twenty-five hours. The Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis and the Cincinnati Southern roads have agreed to put on connecting schedules to suit the deliveries of the Georgia roads.

The Chattanooga, Rome and Columbus road proposes to do some business by a connection with the Central by way of Carrollton. Its road bed and motive power will be good but it is not known how many ventilated cars it has at its disposal.

The drouth in south Georgia is threatening the crop in that part of the state and may reduce the yield below what has been anticipated.

Railroad estimates of the melon crop of Georgia are now about as follows:

From the line of the East Tennessee road.	600 cars
From the line of the Savannah, Florida and Western road.	2,000 cars
From the line of the Georgia Southern and Florida road.	1,000 cars
From the line of the Atlanta and Florida road.	1,100 cars
From the line of the Central road.	2,300 cars
From the line of the Georgia road.	250 cars
Total.	7,250 cars

This is about 2,000 cars more than last year's crop.

The railroads say that the consumption spreads over a larger territory every year, and more towns of 10,000 inhabitants will be on the rate sheets this year. Consequently they think the larger crop will bring as good prices as ever.

Mr. J. L. Hand, who went to Chicago to ask the Chicago and Ohio River Traffic association for lower rates beyond the Ohio river, returned somewhat encouraged, as some of the roads showed a disposition to make the reduction.

The rates are in the hands of the railroads, and the following are the freights to some of the leading points:

RATES PER CAR OF 24,000 POUNDS.

Atlanta to Chicago	$81 60
Atlanta to Buffalo, N. Y.	78 95
Atlanta to Cincinnati	45 60
Atlanta to Cleveland, Ohio	76 80
Atlanta to Detroit, Mich.	79 20
Atlanta to Evansville, Ind.	45 60
Atlanta to Louisville, Ky.	45 60
Atlanta to Indianapolis, Ind.	67 20
Atlanta to Pittsburg, Pa.	76 32
Atlanta to St. Louis, Mo.	64 80
Atlanta to Memphis, Tenn.	45 60
Atlanta to Nashville, Tenn.	28 80

From Macon to these points the rate will be four cents per hundred, or $9.60 per car more than from Atlanta. From Albany it will be seven cents a hundred or $16.80 per car more than from Atlanta. Jesup will be nine cents and Valdosta eleven cents higher than Atlanta.

These rates are not generally known, but will be substantially as above given. They are approximately based on a scale of eight mills per ton per mile to the Ohio river, and one cent per ton per mile on roads beyond. The rate to Louisville and Cincinnati figures out within 36 cents of this on a car load, and that to Nashville within $1.20.

THE REV. N. KEFF SMITH

Will Probably Accept the Call of the Darien Church.

The Darien Timber Gazette says:

A very large and enthusiastic meeting of the congregation of the Presbyterian church of Darien was held on Sunday last for the purpose of extending a call to minister for the church.

A vote was taken and it was found that the Rev. N. Keff Smith, of Atlanta, had been unanimously called to the charge. Mr. Smith is an eloquent speaker and a good man, and we feel satisfied if he concludes to accept, and we trust he will, he will make the best pastor that the church has ever had.

During his recent visit here this well known divine made hosts of friends outside as well as in the church, all of whom will hear with delight of his acceptance of this call should he conclude to accept. The Gazette congratulates its Presbyterian friends on their choice.

The Rev. Mr. Smith will in all probability accept the call.

In reference to the matter he says:

"In January I received a note urging me to take charge as a temporary supply of the church with the view of becoming pastor after six months or a year. I at once declined.

"Last month they asked me to visit the church and hold a meeting. I went, and for more than a week preached daily. Last week they formally notified me of the unanimous call and agreed to every condition which I made while there.

"Of course my going is conditioned upon the Atlanta presbytery, as the call is subject to their action. The Darien church has already appointed an elder to prosecute, if necessary, their call before my presbytery."

The Grocers' Picnic.

The grocers' picnic will be a big success.

The grocers' friends are taking an interest in the picnic, and their friends are legion. Every retail grocery store will be closed, and the wholesalers will lend a hand, the commission men will be there—and all will be consumers of the good things of the day.

Preparations have been made for a big time, and everybody may expect to enjoy a pleasant day.

ATLANTAS AGAIN BEATEN.

THE CHATTANOOGAS WIN AT AUGUSTA.

A Closely Contested Game, Which Went the Wrong Way—Some Pretty Plays—Other Interesting Baseball News.

Chattanooga Downs Atlanta.

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 27.—[Special.]—It looked like Atlanta would turn the tide of defeat this afternoon. Sterling hit for three bases in the first inning and scored on Kinsley's ball to first base. In Chattanooga's second Hotalling took first, went to second on a wild pitch and third on catcher's bad throw, scoring on Ford's ball fumbled by Howe. In Atlanta's third the batters got on to Jones, and it looked as if they had captured the game. Howe hit to Miller at short, who threw the ball over the first baseman's head, sending Howe to third. Sterling took base on balls, and both scored on Kinsley's three bagger, who in turn scored on Shea's three base hit. Shea scored on Dowse's fly to center field. This put the score five to one in favor of Atlanta. No more runs were made until Chattanoogas seventh, when Speer hit safe, got second on a passed ball, third on catcher's throw, and scored on Miller's ball to second base. But when Atlanta went in for her eighth inning, and Shea led off for three bases and scored on Honeman's fly and out to right field, and Dowse got first on Miller's fumble, second on Cary's hit and scored on Howe's hit, it seemed that Chattanooga had no showing, with a lead of seven to two. In Chattanooga's eighth, however, they bunched a lot of hits and as one man after another crossed the plate and closed up the gap the crowd began to cheer, and the Atlanta boys lost their heads. McCoy hit safe and went to third on Mill's safe hit. Hotalling was hit by the pitcher, and filled all the bases. Murray hit to short, forcing Hotalling out at second, and scoring McCoy. Ford hit safe, scoring Mills and Murray. Nusz got first on Howe's fumble, advancing Ford. Speer hit for two bags, scoring Ford and Nusz. Jones hit safe, scoring Speer, and Miller hit safe, scoring Jones, giving Chattanooga nine to seven, and the game, as Atlanta went out in one, two, three order in her ninth inning. The game was one of heavy batting, and Chattanooga got the most of it, though playing with one more error than Atlanta. Up to the eight inning everybody conceded the game to Atlanta, and the turn of the eighth surprised players and all. The Chattanoogas were quick to take advantage of the change, however, and once started they kept things moving to the finish. The score is as follows:

PAVEMENT PARAGRAPHS.

The concert at Spelman seminary last night was a big success. Quite a number of well known people from the city were among those present.

Rev. Sam Jones lectures in Atlanta on Thursday.

Mr. Isaac Haas's twelve-year-old boy came near losing his life yesterday. While standing at the Whitehall street crossing, the little fellow was knocked down by a brewery wagon. He fell under the mules but was picked up uninjured. It was a narrow escape.

The Rev. Mr. Martin, of Texas, assisted by his daughter, is conducting a protracted meeting at the Third Baptist church, on Jones avenue. The meetings are held at four in the afternoon and eight at night and are well attended.

Be on hand at The Last Days of Pompeii tonight.

Personal.

MR. JOHN I. MOLAN, the representative of the Emma Juch Grand Operatic Concert company, is at the Kimball. He arrived last night and will begin today to arrange for the musical festival which will take place in this city on the 14th and 15th of June.

A HUSBAND GONE.

HIS WIFE SAYS HER MONEY IS GONE ALSO.

The Story of a Lady Who Advertises Her Husband—A Peachtree Business Closed—What Has Become of Them.

The millinery store and the Hitchcock lamp establishment, at No. 34 Peachtree, is closed.

There has been much speculation in regard to the closing of that place.

The following advertisement appeared in THE CONSTITUTION yesterday:

TAKE NOTICE.—I FORBID ALL PERSONS owing the millinery firm of Moss & Wheeler, 34 Peachtree street, paying money to any collector that George A. Moss or Elizabeth Wheeler may employ, and also to not pay any money on the Hitchcock or Wanzer lamp to said George A. Moss, son, or any collector of his. Mrs. Eliza A. Moss, successor to Moss & Wheeler.

A WOMAN'S STORY.

The lady who is in trouble is Mrs. Eliza A. Moss.

About two years ago Mr. Moss lost his first wife, and soon after he paid court to Miss Eliza Davy, and disregarding the wishes of her relatives, she married him. Miss Davy was an orphan girl, and was taken in charge by a wealthy family of New York, with her brother, who is now an associate justice of the supreme bench of that state.

During her maidenhood Miss Davy was the belle of her native town, Canandaigua, and although she was married against the wishes of her relatives to Mr. Moss, they helped him in business by advancing him money until he failed in business.

After that he remained about his native town for some time, and then decided to better his fortune by coming south. He became sole agent for the Hitchcock Lamp, and came to Atlanta to try his luck in that business.

Soon after that time Mrs Elizabeth Wheeler, of the same town, come to Atlanta and established herself in business as the keeper of a boarding house at 105 Wheat street.

Mr. Moss sent for his wife, and for a while they boarded with Mrs. Wheeler. Mrs. Moss is a very delicate lady, and on that account she prepared to move to another house, on Courtland street, that was more quiet and better suited to her condition.

Mrs. Wheeler became tired of the boarding-house business and said that she wished to set up in business on her own account. Mr. Moss decided that he would help her, and induced Mrs. Moss to give her a loan of about $375 to help her along in her business, stipulating that if she failed she would return the money to him.

THE CULMINATION.

A short time ago there were such occurrences as led Mrs. Moss to suspect that there was something wrong. On May 11th Mrs. Moss swore out a warrant for Mr. Moss, charging that he had property of hers in his hands. That same night he and Mrs. Wheeler disappeared and have not been heard from since.

Mrs. Moss says that her husband took away with him $500 which she had deposited in the bank, and that he placed mortgages on her real estate on Capitol avenue, which she had purchased with her own money to the amount of $1,000, and that he obtained the money on that collateral.

Mrs. Wheeler has gone back to Canandaigua, N. Y., and Mr. Moss is supposed to be gone west.

Promoting Church Building.

In this age of practical business building, it is refreshing to find a strong corporation disposed to encourage church and school building. The board of directors having in charge the Peachtree park property on the Air-Line railroad, offers a site free to any church organization that will build either a church, parsonge or school house. Two applications have been made for church lots and one for a parsonage. Plats of this property may be obtained on application to Krouse & Welch.

Considerable Talk.

Peachtree Park enterprise is the talk of the city. A number of Atlanta's best citizens, including professional and business men, have arranged family groups for the purpose of buying lots near together and building either permanent or summer homes at that delightful place. Plats at office of Krouse & Welch, No. 2 Kimball house.

Notice.

Having bought out the firm of Leak & Lyle, we will continue to collect all rents and make prompt and and correct account of same to the owners. We will give this department our personal attention. King & Roberts, 37 Marietta street.

IN AND ABOUT ATLANTA.

Is the S. S. S. company to be sold?

The telegram in yesterday's CONSTITUTION announcing that such a transaction was pending, created a stir in Atlanta business circles.

This company, which is one of the greatest in the south, is one of the most important factors in Atlanta's commercial life, and it is but natural, therefore, that any change of the kind mentioned would create not a little interest.

So far as can be ascertained, the deal has not been consummated. Dr. Rankin is in New York, and nothing will be done until his return. For some weeks negotiations have been pending, a wealthy northern syndicate having made an offer for the Swift Specific property. This offer, as stated, is believed to be one million dollars.

Experienced business men say the property is worth that sum and more, but it is believed that a sale is not impossible. Whether sold or not, the plant and property will remain one of the most valuable in the south.

SHE WASHED HIS MOUTH.

A Teacher Cleanses a Boy's Mouth with a Quassia Cup.

For the past six months the teachers in the Marietta street school have been using a rather unique manner of punishment.

Scholars who used bad language have been punished by having their mouths rinsed out with water that had been left standing in a quassia cup.

One day last week Miss Lillie Crawford, who teaches the first grade, secured the cup and used the contents on the seven-year-old son of Patrolman Anderson. The little fellow didn't like it, and when he went home told his father about the matter.

Patrolman Anderson is very indignant at what he calls cruelty to children, and says he will go before the grand jury at its next meeting and have the teacher indicted.

It is probable, however, that the case will end there. It is claimed that the cup had been in use by the principal of the school for some time.

She Is Better.

Mrs. Mary A. Dukes is better.

She says that she only took twenty-five grains of morphine, instead of forty-five, and that she took the dose in a mad fit against her husband. She says she was married seven years ago to Mr. Dukes, and that when he came home to her drunk Saturday night she quarreled with him. He said hard things to her, and she decided that she did not care to live any longer. She took the morphine, but after the doctor had been with her half the night, she got better and was cheerful yesterday.

Escaped from Jail.

J. K. Moss, Jim Scott and John Lew escaped from DeKalb county jail Sunday night, but their escape was not known until yesterday morning. Moss is a white man and is charged with assault with intent to commit murder. Scott and Lew are charged with assault and battery. The men made their escape by removing a stone at the back of their cell, and have not yet been recaptured.

"Squint Eyes Disappearing."

"It may seem a singular statement to make," said an opdician, "but it is true that there is no need of any one suffering from strabismus—that is being squint eyed. The reason is that people have come to the conclusion that it can be cured by an operation or by wearing the correct spectacle lenses.

To those who need an operation to correct strabismus, we say go at once to a competent oculist, and we ask those who can have this defect corrected by spectacle lenses to call at once at Hawkes's optical depot, under Kimball house, and be fitted with a pair of Hawkes's wonderful crystalized lenses. 2t

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Stocks as Reported at the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, May 27.—The stock market began the new week with a renewal of the strong tone which characterized it throughout last week, while the broadening of speculation was very marked, and the volume of business was still larger than on any day of last week, with the result of leaving the entire list somewhat higher than on Saturday.

Buying still continues from the commission houses, and the steady absorption of stocks is sufficient to check any and all manipulation for depression. There was some reaction at different times today, but the demand was so streng that the impression made upon the list was for slight fractions only. The feature of the operations was the extraordinary strength shown by several of the specialties and low priced shares, of which Chesapeake and Ohio, Lake Erie and Western preferred and trust stocks were most prominent for advances made. Almost all of the important gains of the day are in this class of stocks, but the general list shows but few declines, and they are entirely insignificant. Prominent stocks were one after another taken in hand and advanced, which, with frequent reactions, gave the list a somewhat feverish and irregular appearance, but the market finally closed active and strong, generally at about the best price of the day. The sales of listed shares amounted to 460,0 0 shares. Important gains for the day comprise Chicago Gas, 3¼; Lake Erie and Western preferred, 2¾. Chesapeake and Ohio first preferred, 2½, and Louisville and Nashville and Wheeling and Lake Erie preferred, 1 each.

NEW YORK, May 27.—[Special.]—Henry Clews & Co.'s cotton circular on the market today says: Liverpool reported a decline in futures of 1-64 to 2-64 with the tone very steady. There was no material change during the day, though at the close there was more demand for the early months, and the later deliveries were rather pressed for sale. Spots were freely offered, with sales of 8,000 bales at unchanged quotations. There has been very little animation in our market, and fluctuations have been unimportant. The early months were 1 to 3 points off at the opening and the late months 1 point off, and at the end of the day are about the same, with the exception of May contracts, in which all the interest has been liquidated and the price came down to about the basis of June. The close was quiet at a decline of 1 to 3 points as compared with Saturday's quotations. Reports continue of want of rain in the south, and many of them state that much damage has been done. What this will amount to cannot be arrived at, but it is the opinion of the conservative men that it has not been so great that it cannot be remedied by some good weather. Tomorrow being tender day it is impossible to forecast with any degree of certainty the probable course of the market for the near future. One prominent firm holds 90,000 bales for foreign account. If this cotton is delivered, prices will recede; on the contrary, if the notices are prosecuted we will experience a more healthy condition of affairs, as the statistical position of cotton was never stronger, and all that is needed is a revival of speculation. We are believers in higher prices, and as the case stands there has been no developments warranting a change in our previous prognostications.

JOHN S. ERNEST.

NEW ORLEANS, May 27—[Special.]—Glenny & Violett, in their cotton circular today, say: Private reports of rain caused a decline in New York and Liverpool Saturday and today, but the government reports today show nothing but local showers. There is a general complaint of absent of rain except in Texas where the conditions and prospects are very good. Liverpool closed steady at 1 to 2-64 decline and here 1 point lower on near months and late options are 1 to points higher. Port receipts today 1,100 bales against 4,100 bales last year. There appears but little interest in the market and an absence of speculation. Spots here are quiet; sales 300 bales middling 10⅝.

HIS SKULL FRACTUUED.

A BOY KNOCKED OFF THE GEORGIA RAILROAD TRAIN.

Little Oscar McAlpin Was Badly Hurt Yesterday Morning—He Was Knocked Clear Across One Track and on to the Other—His Wounds Painful, But Not Necessarily Serious.

He was going down to Stone Mountain on business for his father. He was on the platform, looking back, and did not notice the signal post near Bell street bridge.

Just as the train passed he swung out, and his head came in contact with the post. He was knocked clear across one track and on to the other, and remained unconscious until he was carried to Dr. Martin's drug store, on Decatur street, by Captain Fellows.

Dr. Martin dressed his wounds and found that he had suffered a severe contusion on the back of his head, causing a fracture of the skull. There was another wound just back of the left ear, cutting through the skin and the flesh.

Neither of the wounds are necessarily fatal, but both are painful, and the one on the back of the head may prove serious.

After the wounds were dressed, Dr. Martin and Captain Fellows took the little sufferer to his father's home, on Jenkins street. His father is a contractor, and being sick abed, sent his little son, who is only about twelve years old, on a business trip down there.

The boy went through the ordeal of dressing his wounds without a murmur, and was resting well at a late hour yesterday evening.

The Last Days of Pompeii Notes.

Dear Sir: Enclosed I send you my spectacles with one lense broken. I shall be up to Atlanta on Tuesday to attend the Pompeii exhibition. Be sure to have them repaired in time for me to call for them on my way to the Pompeii grounds. Without my glasses I shall be able to see nothing, but with a pair of "Hawkes Crystalized Lenses" I can see everything. Don't fail to have them fixed in good shape, for I would not take twenty-five dollars for them, if I could not get another pair.
Respectfully, FERDINAND SMITH,

A SOLEMN DUTY

Will Be Performed on Memorial Day (Thursday) by O. M. Mitchell Post, G. A. R.

At no time since the G. A. R. was formed in Georgia, has everything looked so favorable for a large attendence at the National cemetery, at Marietta, of our best citizens on memorial day, 30th instant, as the year, and the memorial exercises and decoration of the graves with flags and flowers will be most complete.

The Atlanta post will be assisted by J. G. Bead man post, of Tallapoosa, and Blue Ridge post, of Jasper.

Commander Joseph H. Tubadeau states that all military and civic societies should consider themselves invited, whether they have received an invitation circular or not. Of course, the public generally is cordially invited to attend.

The oration will be by Dr. J. G. Armstrong, and the musical portion (vocal) of the program will be under direction of Comrade A. B. Carrier and a choir of forty voices. It is expected that the Fourth United States artillery band will participate in the program.

The decoration of the grand stand and the graves has been placed in charge of a committee of the post, assisted by the Woman's Relief corps.

The arrangements for transportation are perfect, and every attention will be given to enhance the comfort of ladies and gentlemen who will attend. The regular train will leave Atlanta, on the Western & Atlantic railroad, at 7:00 a.m., and will be followed by a special train, with ample accommodations, at 8 a.m.

WONDERFUL CHANGE MADE IN TWENTY YEARS.

Great Improvement Made in the Quality of Ice Cream.

There have been several enjoyable entertainments recently given in Atlanta, and we desire to state, and put those who were of the elect upon notice, that the delightful ice cream partaken was from our house. We have sent out nearly six hundred orders since we first began the sale, and we have not had one complaint. We assure you that the ice cream we sell is absolutely pure cream ice cream and unexcelled by any sold in this market. Other cream can be bought cheaper than ours, but decline in price most necessarily yield a deficiency in quality. If you want a quart, one-half gallon or gallon for Sunday dinner, or a like amount for evening entertainments, or perchance a larger amount is needed, we can supply you. Our cream has a national reputation, is known far and wide, and is readily recognized by lovers of good cream. We pack any quantity from one gallon up for parties in the country, and those who desire to give their friends something specially nice, should either write or telegraph for our ice cream.

We have a very fancy quality new, white honey, clover and rye honey, with a delightful flavor and devoid of that acrid taste usually found in some honey. This is especially nice, and we ask you to call and see it.

We are still selling groceries cheap. We have not forgot how to sell numbers of articles of general consumption at or about cost; of course only a very few things are sold that way, but we must make a profit, and it is no surprise to you that we do.

Our Regal Patent Flour still continues the best in the market. Take the next best, bake them side by side, whichever yields the best bread is naturally the best flour.

Our Rijamo Coffee still stands without a peer. If you want a delightful cup of pure Mocho and Java coffee, try our Rijamo.

Thousands know the value of our Tale Tea. If you have never tried it, do send for one pound.

Make up your mind on next Saturday to send us your order for our pure cream ice cream. Very respectfully HOYT & THORN.

Mercurial Poison.

Mercury is frequently injudiciously used by quack doctors in cases of malaria and blood poison. Its after effect is worse than the original disease. B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) contains no mercury, but will eliminate mercurial poison from the system. Write to Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., for book of convincing proof of its curative virtue.

A. F. Britton, Jackson, Tenn., writes: "I caugh malaria in Louisiana, and when the fever at last broke, my system was saturated with poison, and I had sores in my mouth and knots on my tongue. I got two bottles B. B. B., which healed my tongue and mouth and made a new man of me."

Wm. Richmond, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "My wife could hardly see. Doctors called it syphilitic iritis. Her eyes were in a dreadful condition. Her appetite failed. She had pains in her joints and bones. Her kidneys were deranged also, and no one thought she could be cured. Dr. Gillam recommended B. B. B., which she used until her health was entirely restored."

K. P. B. Jones, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I was troubled with copper colored eruptions, loss of appetite, pain in back, aching joints, debility, emaciation, loss of hair, sore throat, and great nervousness B. B. B. put my system in fine condition." 1w

Every lot is staked off and numbered.

A magnificent "barbecue lunch" will be served to those attending the sale, at the spring in "Park Aurora," on "Even Drive."

RETAIL GROCERS.

Do more work for less remuneration than any other class of merchants. Few of us realize how much trouble it is to collect and distribute groceries to please the variety of taste in a city like Atlanta. Nearly every one seems to want a different brand of the same commodity. This worries and taxes the grocer unnecessarily. They can get Postel's Flour fresh and nice on short notice. This flour runs uniform, makes more bread and better bread than any other on this market. It always pleases. Ask your grocer for

EVERYTHING READY,

AND THE GREAT SHOW WILL BE PACKED TO OVERFLOWING.

Telegrams From All Parts of the State for Seats—The Seventy Cents Seats the Choice Ones, Be Sure and Obtain One, and Be on Hand at the Grand Opening Tonight.

Tonight Atlanta will celebrate an epoch which no other city has ever had the pleasure of enjoying, and one to which in its grandeur, magnificence and beauty stands alone.

A reporter of THE CONSTITUTION visited the grounds, viewed the gigantic work and stupendous construction upon which the fair city of Pompeii has been constructed.

Indeed, it is seldom that THE CONSTITUTION can editorially and locally indorse an amusement, but when it is known that the vast amount of money and indomitable pluck and energy that has brought into Georgia this great and historic presentation, it is but right and proper that our citizens should have a conception of its greatness and be present at the opening tonight to herald to the world on the morrow that the greatness, grandeur and novelty of the destruction of this prehistoric city has been so superbly presented in all its minute details to an audience of not less than 10,000.

THE CHOICE SEATS.

Notwithstanding the fact that there has been quite a large number of seats reserved at one dollar, and quite a number of the best seats remain unsold, from the view taken by THE CONSTITUTION reporter the seventy-five cent grand stand seats were by far the most preferable. Go to Miller's bookstore, Kuhrt's cigar store, Kimball and Markham cigar stands. No one who can should fail to be on hand tonight.

THE AMPHITHEATER.

The amphitheater is built to accommodate eight thousand and every seat should be occupied. It is a real transformation scene and we predict that after tonight the capacity of the grounds will be tested to its fullest capacity. The programme has been published in Sunday's issue. We reproduce and call especial attention to it:

THE PROGRAMME.

Overture at 8:15 o'clock, sharp.
Roman Races, by the numerous auxiliaries.
Classical Performance, by the champions of the world—the wonderful Martells, six in number.
Roman Boxing Exercises, by the Davis Brothers.
Appropriate Evolutions, by the ballet.
Graceful Posturing, by the three Mariel's.
Wonderful Slack Wire Performance—Mrs. Kappell.
The Crystal Pyramids.
The Roman Wrestlers.
The Roman Athletes, in their marvelous Ladder Act.
Grand Representation of the Worship of the Godess Isis, Culminating the Eruption of Mount Vesuvius and Destruction of the city.
To be followed by a gorgeous and unequalled display of Pain's Manhattan Beach fireworks,

WORTH—$1,000—WORTH

Among the numerous novelties will be found the following:
Correct picture of the champion trotter, J. I. C.
The great monkey gymnast.
A flight of pigeons.
A glorious representation of the sun.
Hundreds of Pain's mammoth shells, producing acres of heavenly illuminations.
Immense rockets, the largest ever seen.
The whole terminating with the marvel of the age, "The Lake on Fire," produced by thousands of water fireworks, as produced only by J. Pain & Sons, and positively never before seen in the south.
The bombshells used on the occasion are 50 inches in diameter, being three times larger than fired by any other pyrotechnist. The reports can be heard for twelve miles.
Admission, 50 cents; and let every one who can possibly get out be on hand.

THE POLICE.

Chief Connolly has promised to have a full and sufficient force on hand, and it can be assured that the best of order will be maintained. Atlanta police never fail in their endeavor to secure perfect conduct.

THE FORCE.

A most skilled force of door tenders, ticket rakers and employes will be on hand to see that everything moves smoothly, and the patrons of this great show will be attentively waited on.

THE ENTRANCES.

To accommodate the public and avoid rushes three entrances will be provided. For reserved seats through Peters park, for general admission old baseball entrance: for colored people, gate near school of technology. Let every one be on hand. Only fifty cents.

Notice to Coal Dealers and Consumers.

We have to arrive within the next thirty and sixty days one thousand tons of the best Lorberry red ash, white ash nut, and hard white ash broken anthracite coal. ADJOINING GRANT PARK!

WEDNESDAY, MAY 29, AT 4 P. M.

On South Boulevard, Park Avenue, Cottingham Avenue and Robinson Street.

THE DUMMY LINE OF STREET CARS RUN IN front of this elegant property, giving you all of the convenience of being right in the city, yet you can live out of the dust and noise under the delightful shade of the white oak, hickory and elm tree. These lots overlook Grant Park, its lake and beautiful serpentine drives. The Confederate Home has recently been located just east of this spot, where forty or fifty thousand dollars will be expended this year and a great deal more in the future. South Boulevard has recently been extended by the county commissioners to the McDonough road, which opens up at least one thousand acres of land heretofore bottled up. Improvements are now in sight that are bound to enhance the value of all this real estate. Now is a most opportune time to buy this property. No safer or more solid investment can be made. In a few years this portion of south Atlanta will be much more valuable and attractive, and of course will sell at high figures. People are coming into Atlanta daily from all over the east and west, bringing their families and capital. Many are simply investing in Atlanta real estate because it is so safe and so certain to increase in value. Here you have the advantage of Grant Park with all of its beauties, that has cost the city many thousands of dollars, yet you can take one of these lots adjoining the park and overlooking Lake Abana filled with boats bearing the beautiful belles of Atlanta on its bosom, at your own price. We want to sell them and intend to do so. Come out and examine them, see how easily and rapidly you can get into and out of the city, select your lot and buy it. We only want one-third cash, the balance in one and two years, 8 per cent. Take dummy at 3:30 p. m. on Pryor street, get off at Fort Walker, Grant Park.

Real Estate Auctsoneer.

Two Lots Corner Peachtree and Merritt's Avenue.

TUESDAY, MAY 28, AT 4 P. M.

This valuable property, right in the center of fashion, wealth and culture, is to be sold to the highest bidder. No better real estate will be offered again because all such has been secured by farseeing men, who appreciate the rapid growth of Atlanta and realize that the present low figures cannot continue. This is strictly choice, with every imaginable convenience surrounding it—paved streets, gas, water, sidewalks and steeet cars. In a few years there will be no Peachtree lot upon the market, and if you get one after this you must be prepared to draw a big check.

Atlanta is growing rapidly and is now attracting business men from all over the country. Money is easier now than at any time since the war. The very few failures in our city has impressed everybody with a desire to come to Atlanta where they can make money fast, and live in health and comfort all the year round. Then buy you an elegant lot now: do not delay and allow some one else to make a thousand or two out of your timidity. Terms one-half cash, balance 6 and 12 months at 8 per cent.
